JOHNSON ANXIOUS TO KNOW SECRETS

Asks Clarence Grange About all His Dealings with Gavin M'Nab.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 18.—The trial of Former Senator E. J. Emmons, accused of boodling at the last session of the Legislature, was resumed this morning, with Clarence Grange, secretary of the Phoenix Building and Loan Association, on the witness stand.

Juror A. Popert was taken with a mild attack of cholera morbus yesterday, and Juror J. Kromer, having been slightly ill last Friday, it was feared the case might not be proceeded with today. This fear was dissipated, however, by the appearance of the full jury in the box. The recently ailing jurors appeared to be in their usual health, and the taking of Grange's testimony was resumed.

GRANGE MAKES STATEMENT.

Before this Grange asked the privilege of making a statement. He said he had been slightly indisposed for several days, and his memory was not as clear as usual when he gave his testimony last Friday. This morning he went to District Attorney A. M. Seymour and asked if it would be proper to look over the transcript of testimony. Seymour said it was proper, and after looking over the transcript he found he had made two errors. These errors related to dates he had conversations with Jos. S. Jordan and Gavin McNab. TALKED WITH McNAB.

After several objections to testimony given by the witness in which he referred to the "four boodling Senators," Grange told of the conversation he had with Gavin McNab, in which it was decided to trap the quartet. He traced the course of events up to the time the marked bills were fixed up to entrap Bunkers, Emmons, Wright and French. The marked bills were turned over to a man he did not know, but who was indicated by a nod of the head by Gavin McNab, as the man to whom it should be paid. Later, the witness said, he learned that the man to whom he had given the marked bills was Moses Hines.

Grange's testimony was quite the same as that given before the Senate investigating committee, and at the trial of Harry Bunkers.

ON CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Grange was then turned over to Grove L. Johnson for cross-examination. Johnson asked Grange a series of questions relating to his place of residence and his business connections.

Grange said he had resided in San Francisco since 1900, prior to which time he had lived at Portland, Ore. Previous to that he lived at Butte, Mont., and before that was in Salt Lake City. Prior to going to Salt Lake City he resided at Albuquerque, N. M. In all of these places Grange said he had been connected with building and loan associations, the names of which he gave.

In answer to questions Grange said he had never lived at Provo, Santa Fe, Helena or Anaconda, but later qualified by saying that he had a temporary residence at Helena for about six months.

IN SAN QUENTIN.

Johnson then asked the witness if he had ever had in his employ a man named "Abe" Schwartz, and he said he had. He denied he had written to Schwartz to come to him at San Francisco. Further on, in answer to a question by Johnson, Grange said Schwartz "left his employ between two sons, and is now in San Quentin," through prosecution by him. Johnson at once took up another line of questioning. This related to Jordan's employment by the Phoenix to write "ads."

After the Phoenix had decided to quit advertising for a time, Jordan was engaged to collect bills introduced in the Legislature, relating to building and loan associations.

Johnson wanted to know why he had not testified that Jordan was employed to collect bills when he appeared before the Senate investigating committee. Grange said he believed he had so testified.

GRANGE IS WELL.

Here Johnson abruptly asked if Grange were well, in view of the latter's statement at the opening of the session. He said he did not want to take advantage of a sick man, and would postpone the examination if he did not feel able to proceed. Grange said he was physically able to proceed.

Grange said he was particularly interested in Senate Bill Number 671. This was a bill in which Frank Otis, an attorney representing a rival association, was anxious to have passed. This statement was made in answer to a number of questions designed to show that Grange was interested in a particular bill before the last Legislature, which was being pressed by outside influences.

NOTIFIED NEWSPAPERS.

Referring to the night he communicated with Jordan, telling him to meet him in this city, Johnson asked Grange if he had upbraided Jordan for suggesting to buy up the Senators. The witness said he had not, neither had he notified District Attorney Seymour, the District Attorney of San Francisco, or the Attorney General, but his attorney had notified the newspapers.

Grange testified that his company had never paid a cent in return for the money he put up to entrap the Senators. He

MANUEL FRANCISCO FATALLY WOUNDED IN THE ABDOMEN.

His Wife Thought He Was Going to Meet Another Woman at Yreka So She Fired to Kill.

MANUEL FRANCISCO, THE PORTER IN THE BROADWAY DEPOT OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, THE BIG SWARTHY PORTUGUESE WHO HAS OCCUPIED THE POSITION FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS, WAS SHOT AND FATALLY WOUNDED THIS AFTERNOON BY HIS WIFE, WHO WAS PROMPTED BY FEELINGS OF JEALOUSY.

THE SHOOTING TOOK PLACE AT THE FRANCISCO HOME, 755 JEFFERSON STREET, AND WAS WITNESSED BY NO PERSON SO FAR AS KNOWN AT THIS WRITING, EXCEPT THE PARTICIPANTS. . . . .

THE BULLET ENTERED THE ABDOMEN AND FOUND ITS WAY INTO THE INTESTINES.

FRANCISCO WAS TAKEN TO THE RECEIVING HOSPITAL AND SUBSEQUENTLY TO PROVIDENCE HOSPITAL, WHERE HE WILL BE OPERATED UPON.

THE SHOOTING WAS OCCASIONED BY THE FACT THAT FRANCISCO WAS ABOUT TO GO TO YREKA, IN THIS STATE, TO SPEND HIS VACATION, AND MRS. FRANCISCO DID NOT WANT HIM TO GO ON THE GROUND THAT HIS PROPOSED VISIT TO THAT PLACE WAS TO MEET ANOTHER WOMAN THAN HIS WIFE.

HURRIED TO THE HOSPITAL

WOUND RECEIVED BY THE HUSBAND PROBABLY FATAL

Francisco was brought to the Receiving Hospital at about 1.40 o'clock and was placed upon the table in the operating room.

The body was examined and was found to have been lacerated by a pistol bullet which had entered the abdomen about 1 1/2 inches to the right of the navel. The fissure made by the bullet was about 3/4 of an inch long and looked as if the missile were of a very heavy calibre.

BULLET IN INTESTINES.

The bullet had disappeared in the intestines and the first sight it appeared that Francisco had sustained a mortal wound.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin was summoned, and he made a supplemental examination of the injury, following that which was hastily made by Dr. Shirk.

Dr. Hamlin stated to THE TRIBUNE reporter that the wound appeared to be of a dangerous character, but that he could not determine its real condition until after the more careful examination.

WRITHED IN AGONY.

The injury certainly was very painful because Francisco, herculean as he is in stature and robustness, writhed in agony. From time to time groans came from between his clenched teeth and it was evident that he was using all his physical strength to suppress the feelings of pain which the bullet was occasioning.

VITAL SPOT TOUCHED.

That some vital spot had been touched by the missile was evident from the pallid hue which overcast the swarthy features of the victim. His black complexion, the darkness of which was intensified by a beard or ebou hue of several days' growth, had assumed a ghastly white, and into his eyes had come a glassy light, which to some indicated that the final moment was not far away.

POLICE ON HAND.

Dr. Hamlin was followed by Captain Petersen of the Oakland police force, who had come hurriedly from the scene of the tragedy for the purpose of looking after the facts of the case from both points of view, as he had already got a statement from the woman who fired what was intended to be a deadly shot.

HUSBAND TELLS HIS STORY

FRANCISCO DECLARES THAT HIS WIFE WAS JEALOUS.

Acting on the intimation of Dr. Hamlin that the wound might result fatally, Captain Petersen telephoned to the District Attorney's office and asked for a member of the District Attorney's staff to go to the hospital and take what might be an ante-mortem statement of the injured man.

In response to Captain Petersen's request, Assistant District Attorney Everett Brown made his appearance in haste and was followed by Assistant District Attorney Harris, and Sheriff Barnett and Stenographer Whitton.

DOCTOR'S ADVICE.

There was a discussion between Dr. Hamlin and the District Attorneys as to when the statement should be taken. The law officers said they would wait the decision of the doctor, and the doctor declared that he would not for a few minutes have the statement given because Francisco was in great pain and he did not wish for him to lose his courage by being given to understand that the wound was fatal.

Dr. Hamlin also stated that an operation would be necessary and that he would prefer to have Francisco taken to Providence Hospital, where there were greater facilities for more satisfactorily operating in the case.

Captain Petersen said that the doctor was at liberty to do anything with the patient if he thought Francisco would survive the ride to the hospital.

ANSWERS IN WHISPERS.

Captain Petersen and THE TRIBUNE reporter then propounded a few questions to the injured man. These questions were answered in whispered tones and almost through closed teeth. Questions and answers were as follows:

Captain Petersen—Manuel, who shot you?

Francisco—My wife shot me.

Petersen—Why did she shoot you? Was she jealous?

Francisco—Yes.

Petersen—Did she tell you she was going to do it?

Francisco—Yes.

Petersen—When did she say she was going to do it?

Francisco—She said so today.

Petersen—Why did she shoot you? Because you are going away?

Francisco—Yes.

Petersen—Did she say she didn't want you to go, Francisco?

Francisco—Yes.

Petersen—Did you have the gun first?

Francisco—No.

Petersen—She had it first?

Francisco—Yes. She put the revolver to my ear, and I tried to prevent her, and took hold of the handle, and then I was shot. I defended myself. She fired the shot.

Petersen—Where were you going to go?

Francisco—I was going to Yreka, and she wouldn't let me go.

Petersen—Did your wife think there was another woman?

Francisco—Yes.

Francisco, while lying on the operating table at the Receiving Hospital did not believe that he was going to die, and for that reason his dying statement could not be taken by Deputy District Attorney Everett Brown.

The patient was removed to the Providence Hospital by the orders of Dr. Hamlin, who will attempt a very difficult operation to save the wounded man's life.

Francisco was not informed of the dangerous character of his wound by Dr. Hamlin, who wished to keep the courage of the patient up.

Deputy District Attorney Brown, accompanied Dr. Hamlin and Francisco to the Providence Hospital, where he will be in readiness to take the dying statement of the wounded

LEADER OF GANG GETS SEVEN YEARS

JAMES CROWHURST.

Judge Melvin Shows Mercy to Robber Because He Made a Confession.

The brief criminal career of James Crowhurst, a youthful robber of Fruitvale, and leader of the "Jim Crow" gang, was terminated for a while this morning by his being sentenced to seven years at Folsom penitentiary by Judge Henry Melvin. Although but nineteen years of age, he smiled after the sentence had been pronounced and told Deputy Sheriff Bert Brown as they went back to jail that he had not expected to get less than ten years.

PLEA FOR MERCY.

The pronouncing of sentence was preceded by a brief argument by Attorney G. W. Langan for Crowhurst, asking for mercy, in which he said: "I wish to say for this young man that prior to his engaging in a criminal career, which was but of a few months' duration, that he bore a good reputation. He engaged in crime but for a short time. He is but nineteen years of age and now places himself upon the mercy of the court and asks for as light a sentence as possible."

MADE A CONFESSION.

District Attorney Allen made a statement in which he said that Crowhurst after his arrest had made a statement in which he had made a clean breast of his wrong-doing and also had given information in regard to other offenses which had helped the Sheriff to bring Pembroke, Blaker and Schneider to justice for the murder of Thomas Cook.

A GOOD SHERIFF.

In passing sentence, Judge Melvin said to Crowhurst: "You are charged with robbery, which is the most cowardly of all offenses. There is nothing heroic about it. You held up a peaceable citizen, and had he resisted you would have killed him, and though you are young, he would have been just as dead now as though killed by an older man. Fortunately, Alameda County has a Sheriff who believes he has a duty other than serving civil processes, and you were quickly brought to the bar of justice. By your plea of guilty you have saved the county considerable expense and by the information you have given the officers you have aided the cause of justice and I will give you a lighter sentence than it would have been had you been convicted after a trial."

THE SENTENCE.

"Nevertheless, I must pass such a sentence that it will be a protection to society and also be a lesson to deter others from following in your footsteps, and it is the judgment of this court that you be taken by the Sheriff to the State Prison at Folsom and be imprisoned there for the term of seven years."

The courtroom was filled with witnesses, attorneys and others interested in matters pertaining to the courts and a buzz of seeming satisfaction went around as they heard the sentence of the Court and realized that the commission of a bold robbery had been punished.

POLICE ARE PUZZLED OVER WOMAN'S DEATH

Chief Hodgkins Says He is Positive Arthur Dauth Was Not Married by Justice, as Claimed.

Arthur K. Dauth, who was shot by his wife Saturday morning, is still an inmate, closely guarded, at the Receiving Hospital and no one is allowed to see him save the detectives who are working on the case.

The inquest on the body of the woman, who is alleged to have cut her throat after shooting her husband, will be held this evening and the police will take no further steps in the matter until the coroner's jury renders its verdict. In the meantime they are carefully tracing Dauth's record, which appears to be clean, wherever he has been.

While the injured man told a straightforward story to the detectives and newspaper men, he has already been detected in one material misstatement. He said he and the woman who is now dead were married by a Justice of the Peace in San Francisco three years ago. That is not true, the police say, for no record of their marriage can be found in either the County Clerk's office or the office of the Recorder of San Francisco. If one statement is not true the question is asked might not the others be untrue?

NO PROOF OF MARRIAGE.

"We have positive knowledge that Dauth and Mrs. Anderson were not married by a Justice of the Peace in San Francisco," said Chief of Police Hodgkins today. "We have information, however, that the two were married by contract and we are now searching for that contract, which is said to exist. Already we have found the birth certificate of the woman and that of her child."

"The woman was born Annie Caroline Lener, and she was the daughter of Johan Lener. She was born in 1871 and baptized 10 years later. She was married to Ike Anderson, son of George Anderson, and gave birth to a child in 1891. The child's name was Marie Louise Josephine. She died when six years old and subsequently Anderson and his wife were divorced."

"But we have not yet found any record of Mrs. Anderson's marriage to Dauth."

THEORY OF MURDER.

A theory was advanced today that the woman did not die by her own hand. It is known that the couple quarreled until 1 o'clock Saturday morning. This is admitted by Dauth, who says that at that time he kissed his wife good night and that he then went to sleep. At 5 o'clock the shot was fired. In discussing this phase of the case Detective Frank Lynch said today:

"It is possible that Mrs. Dauth did not cut her own throat, but there is no doubt that she did inflict the wound on her husband's head. The evidence shows that before firing the shot Mrs."

President of Equitable Society Says There'll Be no Fund.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, said today that hereafter the Equitable Society will refuse to contribute to political funds.

Mr. Morton was asked if the contributions of the New York Life Insurance Company, to the McKinley and Roosevelt campaign funds had been equalled by that of the Equitable.

"As to that," he answered, "I cannot say. I am only concerned with the future of the Equitable, not its past."

Will it be the policy of the Equitable in the future, he was asked, "to defray part of the campaign expenses of presidential candidates or other seekers for public office?"

"Not any more," replied Mr. Morton.

CHARGE IS DISMISSED.

A charge of petty larceny preferred against C. Ferguson by his brother, with whom he was a partner in business, was dismissed by Police Judge Smith this morning.

TWELVE PEOPLE INJURED IN NEW YORK CENTRAL TUNNEL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—One car of an express train bound for Boston was overturned today in the New York Central tunnel and twelve persons were injured. The accident was caused by an open switch and occurred near Fifty-sixth street just as the train had left the Grand Central station.

The injured persons were placed on the cars which were not derailed and the train was pulled back into the station. Though the passengers in the derailed car were thrown about violently when the car went off the track, no one was fatally injured. Many were badly bruised and some sustained broken limbs.

The railroad authorities sent a hundred laborers to the scene promptly and the rails, which had been torn up for a hundred feet, were promptly relaid. Within an hour the tracks were cleared.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Probably the largest meeting in its history will be held by the American Bankers' Association in Washington, October 10-13. It will be the thirty-first annual convention of the organization.

Among the important subjects to be discussed is an amendment to the constitution prohibiting members from compromising or compounding with persons charged with crime, or with their agents or attorneys, a case once committed to the association which results in the apprehension of the criminal. This amendment refers particularly to absconding officers of banks who have got away with the money and offer to return part of it on condition that prosecution be dropped.

DECLARES THAT HUSBAND WAS ABOUT TO DESERT HER.

When the woman arrived at the city prison she was in an extreme state of hysterics and screamed with almost every breath.

On the way to the prison, however, she made the following statement to Policeman Cox in the Patrol wagon.

"My name is Bessie Vincellean and my husband's name is Manuel Francisco Vincellean."

"I am 29 years old and was married to my husband in San Francisco three months ago."

"This morning we quarreled and he went into the dining room to pack up his clothes."

"He said he was going to leave me."

"I then declared I would kill myself and got his pistol with the intention of shooting myself."

"He tried to take the pistol away from me and in the scuffle it was accidentally discharged."

"I did not wish to shoot him. All I wanted was to kill myself. I was so unhappy."

"When I saw what had happened, I put him on a lounge in the dining room and ran for a bottle of whisky."

"I was trying to pour the whisky down his throat, trying to revive him, when the police came. That is all I know about it."

"If my husband says I did the shooting intentionally he knows it is untrue, because I loved him."

WAS JANITOR AT THE STATION

WOUNDED MAN WAS SUED IN THE COURTS BY WOMEN.

Francisco has for perhaps a dozen years been the janitor of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company at the Seventh street depot. He was married about three months ago to the woman who shot him. Previously to that marriage he had had marital experiences which were of a decidedly unpleasant character.

He several times became involved in disputes with young women, as the outgrowth of attempts on his part to recover money which he had given them by way of requital for smiles which they were unwilling to bestow upon him.

These disputes found their way into the courts and in several instances Francisco was defeated and the fair ones were allowed to walk away with the trinkets and coin which he had lavished upon them.

Although performing menial labor for the Southern Pacific, Manuel had somewhat of crude artistic tastes, which he was able to put into shape. Proof of his handiwork may be seen in the combination of castles and mountains and valleys worked in cement which occupies the vacant area in the rear of the Broad Gauge Depot on Seventh street.

TRIED TO KILL HIS FRIEND

Desperate Highbinder is Captured by a Brave Young Man.

Because he refused to give him money, Hule Wing, a Chinese highbinder shot Hule Chung, also known as Kan Hung, a wealthy merchant, in the kitchen yesterday afternoon. That his victim is not dead is not the fault of Hule Wing for he had murder in his heart when he entered the store of Hule Chung at 263 Eighth street.

For some time Hule Chung has been feeding and lodging Hule Wing, and supplying him with money, and of late his demands had been growing so large that the two had had several quarrels. Yesterday afternoon Hule Wing entered the store of Hule Chung and made another demand for money which was refused him, and he was told to leave the place. At this moment he pulled out a pistol and shot Hule Chung, who dropped to the floor. The report of the pistol attracted a number of other Chinese in the neighborhood who ran out to see what had occasioned it. The first sight they saw was Hule Wing swinging the pistol in a circle around his head, defying all who came near him.

Then he ran down Eighth street to Webster, pointing the pistol to all who tried to capture him.

His capture was due to the fearlessness of J. Bell, a painter who resides at 1829 Seventh street, who disregarded the pistol and seized Hule Wing, who fought fiercely to get away. In the struggle the Chinese received several cuts about the head. Bystanders came to the assistance of Bell and finally overpowered him. He was then turned over to the police and a charge of assault with intent to commit murder placed against him.

Hule Chung was removed to the Receiving hospital where it was found that a bullet had entered his right thigh, shattering the bone. An amputation will be necessary. Dr. L. L. Riggins, the attending physician, states that the wound is very serious.

In speaking of the assault made upon him Hule Chung said: "I have given him food, clothing, a place to sleep and money for a long time." He said, "Late-ly he has been asking too much. He is a bad man and threatened several times that if I did not do what he wanted he would kill me. He does not work but lives on blackmail."

This is not the first time that Hule Wing has been before the police. He was arrested last January for carrying concealed weapons by Policeman Brennan. On that occasion a long knife was found hidden in his trousers. His fine was promptly paid, and it is believed that it was paid by the Chinese merchants whom he terrorized.

said he took the money from his own private sources.

GRANGE'S ESTATE.

Johnson asked Grange how much he was worth on January 1st last, and after an objection had been overruled, he said he was worth at that time between $17,000 and $18,000. Johnson asked what his salary as manager was and he replied that he received no salary, but received a commission on certain lines of work.

An objection by Seymour brought forth the declaration from Johnson that the witness supervised his own actions with respect to disbursements and passed on the question of his own commissions. Johnson declared a company so organized ought to be investigated.

OTIS MADE THREAT.

Here Johnson declared he would prove that Grange was the man who had sought to bribe the Legislators, and that he would show that Grange was an accomplice. Grange in answer to questions, said he had expended $900 of his own money to trap "boodling and blackmailing Legislators," and that he would take the same action again, if the opportunity were presented. Grange said Attorney Otis had threatened hostile legislation, and the witness said he so informed members of the Assembly Committee.

Grange stated that when he testified before the Senate investigating committee that Jordan had told him that Bunkers and French were the Senators who would have to be seen; he told the truth. Johnson wanted to know why he had not so testified last Friday or this morning. Grange replied that it possibly had escaped his memory.

REVIEWS TESTIMONY.

Johnson made an exhaustive review of the testimony given by the witness at the investigation by the Senate committee, with the idea of showing discrepancies between that given at that time and that given at the trial of Bunkers.

In the course of the quizzing Grange said he had not made certain statements. In reply, Grange made an emphatic denial, saying:

"I certainly never testified that way, and you are trying to put words in my mouth which I never said."

"Why, God rest your soul, man, I never attempted to do that with any man, much less am I trying to do it with you," said Johnson.

Here Seymour and Jones, evidently scenting trouble, hastened to make explanations, and it developed that Johnson was paraphrasing from the testimony given before the Senate committee which had misled Grange.

This development caused Johnson and opposing counsel to smile in satisfaction.

Two stamps were once put into an offering box by a lady in Georgetown. They were two-cent stamps issued in British Guiana in 1859. The following year the same two stamps changed hands at $250. The new purchaser sold them for $3800 to a German dealer, who sold them to a Russian nobleman for $5000.

 ==Taxes are Lower Than Last Year.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, this morning, the tax-levy for Alameda county for the fiscal year of 1905-06 was established by a resolution, at $1.40 cents on each $100 of assessable property within incorporated cities and towns and an additional tax of forty cents on the same basis was fixed on property outside cities and incorporated towns.

This latter tax is levied for road purposes and 15 per cent of it is to be placed to the credit of the General Road Fund.

ALL FAVORED TAX.
 The resolution was adopted by the votes of Supervisors Talcott, Horner, and Rowe, Supervisors Kelley and Mitchell being absent.

The latter two members, however, had previously agreed to this levy when the matter was up for consideration by the Supervisors in Committee of the Whole, and it was then decided that they were to be understood as favoring the levy in the event that they should not be present at today's meeting.

CHANGE IN METHODS.
 This action was taken after a report as to changes in the manner of keeping accounts with the several departments of the county had been read as coming from the Committee of the Whole which was signed by Supervisors Talcott, Rowe and Horner.

This report is as follows:
THE REPORT.
 OAKLAND, Sept. 18.—To the Hon. Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, California,
 Gentlemen:—In determining the tax levy for the ensuing year, it has been the aim of this Board to fix the lowest possible rate required to satisfactorily administer the various departments of the county government compatible with the best public service. With this end in view, while having in mind the provision of law requiring the Board to deduct 10 per cent of the assessed valuation, we have deducted only the amount of railroad assessments which we deem to be a reasonable estimate of the delinquency. With this deduction the following values will remain upon which to estimate the levy.

Assessed value of property inside incorporated cities $87,744,127
 Assessed value of property outside incorporated cities 26,610,979

Total values inside and outside $114,355,106

LIMITING OFFICE EXPENSES.
 "We have carefully considered the needs of each department in detail and would recommend that each office should be limited in expense to the allowance as made. With that end in view we would recommend that an account be opened with each office and with each department, that as claims are received in the Expert's office, they be charged to the proper office or department, and that at the end of each month notice be given each department of the amount charged to that department and the balance remaining from the total amount allowed in the estimate."

CLAIMS ON FIRST MONDAY.
 "We further recommend that all claims in the hands of the expert which are a proper charge against the county shall be allowed on the first Monday of each month, and that the Finance Committee of this Board shall meet weekly on Saturday at 9 a. m. to act upon claims presented for their approval."

MONEY TO BE RAISED.
 "We find necessary to raise the following sums for the year 1905-06:
 Common School Fund $343,085
 As estimated by T. O. Crawford, Supt. of Schools
 State Revenue Fund $560,340

VALUATIONS COMPARED.
 "For the purposes of comparison we subjoin a table showing the valuations, rates and amounts to be raised upon the basis of the above for the fiscal years 1904-05 and 1905-06, from which it appears that while there will be $1,707,418 raised this year against $1,679,439 raised last year, or an increase of $27,979, there will be paid to the State and School Funds this year an aggregate of $908,405 as against $858,583 last year, or an increase of $49,822, leaving a balance of $804,011 raised for general county and road improvement purposes, this latter amount being $16,365 less than last year."

FACILITIES WELL TAXED

ADAMS WHARF NOW SCENE OF GREAT ACTIVITY AND CROWDED.

The extraordinary impetus given to building operations in this city and its suburbs of late has caused an increased demand for lumber and other building materials to such an extent that Oakland Harbor is a scene of more than ordinary activity these days. Especially is this so at Adams' Wharf where today its entire 1800 feet of frontage is occupied by sea-going craft discharging cargo.

An army of stevedores, teamsters and laborers of other classes are busy, and genial James Frame, the Wharfinger, is kept on the jump from early morn till late in the evening.

Today the following list of vessels are discharging their cargo at Adams' Wharf:
 Socomevo, 650,000 feet of lumber, Lakma, 800,000 feet of lumber and 400 bunches of shingles, Anna M. Campbell, 750,000 feet of lumber; Sophia Christensen, 400,000 feet of lumber and 400 bunches of shingles; Mandel, 70,000 feet of lumber, Bessie Matson, fruit, Edna E. fruit, Andrew Jackson, shingles, Chahalis, 2,000 telegraph poles.

The above indicates a thriving and growing harbor business. Two laden lumber vessels due at this wharf are lying in the steam off San Francisco and cannot be accommodated with berths prior to Wednesday.

Numerous manufacturing industries are also operating on the Adams' Wharf property. The latest to be put up is the building 36x100 feet and three stories high to be used by the Sherman Fruit Concentrating Company Machinery is now being installed at a cost of many thousands of dollars.

BRING A SUIT AGAINST HOSPITAL

Suit for $25,000 damages was brought this morning by Harry H. Kent against the Providence Hospital by reason of the fact that while a patient there he was left unattended by a nurse while in a delirium and jumped out of a window and sustained a compound fracture of the leg that has permanently injured him.

Kent was a clerk in a bicycle store and while trying a motor cycle it broke with him and he sustained a serious fall resulting in a concussion of the brain. He was taken from the Receiving Hospital to the Providence for treatment, where he went as a patient on November fourth. Four days later the nurse loosened the straps that held him to his cot sufficiently to allow him to make his escape and fall from the window. He alleges that this was negligence on the part of the nurse and wants the corporation to reimburse him for his injuries.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Cold cream should be applied to the face with the same movements as massage. Do not use the cream thickly spread on. A small quantity at a time rubbed in evenly until all the greasiness disappears will have the effect of a preventive to sunburn. If applied before going out, or will allay the smart after the sunburn has become an accomplished fact.

"Many little things which most people think hardly worthy of attention contribute to the spread of tuberculosis," says Dr. William S. Bainbridge of New York.

"How about the common roller towels, the common pencils in school, the common water pail, with its common dipper as well as a county court judge, one of the greatest troubles of my life would pass away. I feel convinced that if there were some lady sitting in my place in a wig or without one, she would not be taken in so freely, so copiously and so hopelessly as I am by the ladies."

Equal parts of linseed oil and lime water, beaten until they are an emulsion, is the very finest remedy for burns and scalds. The mixture should be spread evenly on linen with a knife and bound on the injured spot. It is a sure cure.

The influences which surround children at night should be most carefully looked after that they be healthful. The portion of time given by children to sleep is very important for the body continues to grow during this time. Impure air exerts a greater influence upon children than upon grown people, and a lack of perfect ventilation in the sleeping room will often account for a cross, peevish child in the morning. As far as possible, children should be allowed to have separate beds, and on no account should a child ever occupy the same bed with an aged person. If this is allowed, the child will be the loser in the way of vitality.

During the first few days of any run of fever there should be no attempt made to give food, for, as neither gastric nor pancreatic juices are secreted, the stomach cannot digest food and it putrefies. After the saliva and other secretions have been restored, food should be given that is easiest to digest. Milk, which contains all the food principles, is known as the special diet for fever of any sort. Diluted milk is easier of digestion than the pure milk, which

DIDN'T LIKE SMELL, SO WANTS DAMAGES

The trial of the suit of C. L. Little and wife of Melrose against A. Hunee and wife for $1500 damages alleged to have been sustained by the fact of the operation of Hunee who is a tallow maker, was begun this morning before Judge W. H. Waste.

According to the complaint of Little his property has been damaged to the extent of $500 and the health of himself and wife damaged to the extent of a $1000 by the smells created by Hunee in trying out old meat in a vat near their place.

As a counter charge Hunee claims $250 damages by reason of the stopping of his operations by the injunction sued out by Little. He denies that he has damaged either their property or health and says that if they have been made ill it is by reason of garbage thrown near their home by the plaintiffs themselves.

curdles almost as soon as it enters the stomach. One part of lime water to one of milk is a good proportion. Milk and mineral water is also excellent. Fill a glass half full of milk and then fill up with the mineral water. A little salt increases its palatability. Invalids by the way, prefer more salt and less sugar in any dish. If plain milk agrees with the patient, he may be allowed to have from one to two quarts in twenty-four hours. Milk and barley waters, peptonized milk, koumiss and sojak are all nutritious and digestible. Where a patient gets very tired of the taste of milk the flavor may be varied by adding, with the physician's permission, a little strong coffee, whisky or oyster or clam broth. To prepare the latter allow three medium-sized oysters or clams to one cup of milk. Heat gently to extract the juice, but do not boil. Season as allowed, strain and serve hot or cold.

FLOODS DO GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY

Loss Will Amount to Thousands of Dollars--People Forced to Flee.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18.—Heavy rains and swollen tributaries have caused a rise of over ten feet in the Mississippi river during the past 24 hours and resulted in damage along the St. Louis river front amounting to many thousands of dollars.

A vast amount of produce and other shipping property along the levee is still in danger.

The river stage this forenoon had reached 23.07 feet, a sudden rise of 10.05 feet in 24 hours. The danger line is 25 feet.

The water is gradually cropping up and it is predicted that by nightfall the gauge will show a stage of 28 feet.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE. Produce houses and grain and cotton firms having consignments stored along the levee hastily organized gangs of laborers and endeavored to save their property from being swept away, but the suddenness of the freshet interfered to a considerable extent.

Thousands of barrels of apples, bales of hay, sacks of grain, bales of cotton and in one instance 75,000 feet of lumber were swept away.

Men worked breast deep in the flood, intercepting floating merchandise, and a fleet of skiffs manned by men with boat hooks assisted in the salvage work.

Six city garbage boats moored along the river front are in danger of being swamped.

This marks the quickest rise in the river's stage since that eleven years ago when the river rose 14 feet in one night.

PEOPLE DRIVEN OUT. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 18.—The Missouri river is rising rapidly here and "Darktown" inhabitants are moving from the lower part of the city to higher ground.

The flood is washing through the Callaway county bottoms, across the river from here, and farmers have been driven from their homes.

The farm of one man named Lavy, is under 16 feet of water.

The recent torrential rains, supplemented by backwater from the river, put all small streams out of their banks.

The Tanner bridge, a steel structure spanning Moreau river has been swept away and the Greenberry bridge, also spanning the Moreau is in imminent danger of going out.

RIVER GOES DOWN. TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 18.—The Kaw river today at the government weather gauge touches the thirteen foot mark. This is a fall of half a foot since Sunday morning.

Last night's rain was but 38 hundredths of an inch. Soldier Creek, which did much damage in North Topeka Saturday, is within banks again.

The Union Pacific track is clear from Topeka west and east. Light trains run to the Perry washout there.

RAIN STILL FALLING. KANSAS CITY, Sept. 18.—Rain has fallen in Kansas City and vicinity every day excepting one in September, with a total downfall to date of ten inches in seven days, and today there was no prospect of immediate cessation.

Practically the same conditions have prevailed throughout Western Missouri, especially in the Northwestern corner of the State, and in a portion of Eastern and Central Kansas.

As a result all streams in this part of the country continue to rise and railroad traffic is becoming demoralized because of numerous washouts.

RIVER IS RISING. After rising steadily all last week and then becoming stationary on Sunday the Kaw river at Kansas City began again today to come up.

No danger is anticipated at this point, however, as the Missouri river is low and is carrying off the excess water from the Kaw.

The trouble being experienced by the railways is from washouts, principally in the vicinity of Carrollton, Marshall and Sedalia.

At Kansas City since yesterday an inch and a half of rain fell, while at Wichita, Kansas, the precipitation amounted to 3.14 inches.

HOW A CLERK BECAME A MILLIONAIRE

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Of all the financial romances that have come out of Wall street the story of the fortunes of John A. McCall is probably the most extraordinary one.

Politics was his fairy godmother and through her potent aid he rose from poverty to a fortune of a dozen millions.

He had energy, industry and brains, of course, these are common qualities, but he stands almost alone in Wall street as having made public office a stepping stone to great financial success.

The story of Mr. McCall furnishes a striking and illuminating illustration in itself of the methods and conduct of great life insurance corporations.

It is a story of dollars heaped on dollars until the pile dazzles one. It is a story of a ragged urchin's rise and gradual tumble into a place where there is little else but money, and what money will buy.

It may be added that it signifies the success of a financier who has believed it to be his personal interest as well as those of the corporation with which he has been identified, to be "in" with the Federal and State administrations, no matter what their political character might be.

HOW McCALL'S WEALTH GREW TO $12,000,000.

1868-69—Clerk $720 a year, $1,440.

1868-73—Messenger $800 a year, $3,200.

SURVEYS PROGRESS ON SOUTHERN PACIFIC

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Sept. 18.—News has been received in this city from Guaymas to the effect that good progress is being made on the surveys of the Southern Pacific's line between that place and Guadalajara.

Contracts are being let and actual construction work will be started in a short time. Preliminary surveys have already been run.

The line from Guaymas will be about 1,500 kilometers in length and will be one of the most important in Mexico. When the road is completed it will give the Southern Pacific one of the longest seaboard lines in the world, extending as it will from Portland, Oregon, to Guadalajara, a distance of about 3,100 miles. It is practically a seaboard line for the entire distance.

YOUTH FINED BY COURT. Louis Smith, a youth who created a disturbance by smoking in the Bell Theater and who was arrested by Deputy Constable George Green, was fined $5 by Police Judge Smith today.

A charge of battery against S. D. Stanton, vendor of flea powder was dismissed today by Police Judge Smith on motion of the prosecution. He was accused by W. H. Whitaker, a rival vendor

BECOMES BRIDE OF BANKER

MISS EDNA TRETHAWAY AND JULIUS EISENBACH ARE MARRIED.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 18.—Alameda's as well as Oakland's younger social set will be interested in the marriage of Miss Edna Trethaway, the beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trethaway of 1120 Tenth avenue, East Oakland, to Julius Eisenbach, a prominent young banker of San Francisco.

The marriage took place on Saturday evening last, September 15th, at the home of the bride's parents, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Jones of the Unitarian Church.

At 8.30 o'clock the wedding party entered the elaborately decorated parlor, the prevailing color scheme being soft shades of green and rose.

The bride couple were preceded by the ring-bearer, Donald McDonald, a nephew of the bride, and the dainty little flower-girl, Muzella Wolse, a cousin of the groom.

The following were the bridesmaids: Miss Annie Robinson of San Francisco, who was dressed in pink and carried La France roses; Miss Kate Rae and Miss Alice Smith of San Francisco, who were dressed in green and carried bouquets of maiden hair fern. The matron of honor was Mrs. W. McDonald, sister of the bride, who was dressed in pink and rose. Then came the bride alone in her shimmering robes of white. Reginald Keene of San Francisco supported the groom.

After the ceremony a sumptuous supper was served and the young couple departed amid good wishes and congratulations of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisenbach were the recipients of many handsome gifts. Upon their return from their honeymoon they will reside for a time at 1120 Tenth avenue, East Oakland. The bride is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon of 1523 Sherman street of this city.

Among those from Alameda attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. John Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hand, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Ward, Mr. Hand, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Burrell, Edgar D. Hand, Miss Mildred Burrell, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Taylor, Miss Alma Hand, Mrs. F. A. Burrell, and others.

BARNEY BERNARD AT YE LIBERTY

The attraction this week at Ye Liberty Playhouse is "Els Honor, the Mayor." The principal character in the play will be taken by Barney Bernard who will be supported by the Elision players.

The scenery and costumes in all the acts are beautiful and the stage management entirely worthy of recognition.

The play is a farce comedy and has a political background. Barney Bernard, a member of the Board of Aldermen, is asked by the Mayor of San Francisco who has been called away on business, to take his place during his absence. At this time Siliz is arranging for the opening of a theater with a new Spanish opera.

His prima donna refuses to sing for him unless she is given more money, and this, together with the trials of Siliz as Mayor, is very amusing.

Many songs will be sung during the evening and other special features introduced.

The part of Simon Pure Rockseller, president of the Board for Personal Perfection, will be portrayed by Frank Bacon. Frank MacViears will take the part of a jealous Italian tenor. Elmer South as Siliz, political coxster, and Lloyd Ingraham a rival opera manager will also give good impersonations of the part.

MURDER PUZZLES POLICE

Woman's Body, Showing Marks of Violence, is Found.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—In the discovery of the body of a woman huddled underneath the rear stoop of a big tenement at 240 West Thirty-second street today the police believe they have the evidence of another murder.

The victim, whose name was unknown, was about 30 years of age and evidently in poor circumstances.

The clothing was disarranged, her face bruised and there were marks of violence about the throat which aroused the suspicions of the police.

When the body was lifted the head moved so easily as to indicate that the woman's neck had been broken.

The front of her waist was stained with blood.

The section of the city where the body was found is known as "Hell's Kitchen," and is the stamping ground of some tough characters. Its condition now is worse than usual.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has a temporary trestle running through one side of the street and in the darkness underneath gangs congregate.

Coroner O'Gorman said that he believed the young woman lay alive in the woods two days after the first assault and was killed in a second attack by the same man.

The Coroner said:

"I do not believe that the girl was killed outright. I think she was rendered unconscious and the brute who attacked her dragged her body into the bushes and hid it, thinking she was dead. Probably she lay there all Thursday and Friday unable to move or make an outcry and the murderer returned Friday night to look at his victim. Finding her alive, he finished her."

"Undoubtedly the girl knew the man who killed her. Otherwise there would have been no necessity for him to have added murder to his first crime. He killed her because she recognized him."

Young Man Found by the Police in Chinese Den.

SALT LAKE, Utah, September 18.—A Chinese woman today called the police to a three-story building at 63 Plum alley, where, on the third floor, the officers found a dead Chinese sitting bolt upright on a cot, while in the same room another Chinese, who appeared to be insane, had kindled a fire on the floor, apparently in an attempt to destroy the building.

On the floor below the police found a young white man, known as Eddy Morde, lying motionless, with what the police believe to be opium poisoning. There were evidences that Morde had been dragged down from the floor above. Morde was taken to a hospital and the Chinese who was setting fire to the building was arrested. The Chinese woman who gave the alarm cannot be found. The principal Chinese settlement of the city is in Plum alley.

CZAR PLANNED IT, HE SAYS

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 18.—During M. Witte's voyage to England a cha-cha-cha concert under the patronage of M. Witte was given on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. Re-lying to a toast to his health, the Russian statesman said:

"I crave your permission to say that the medals of peace which you think is due me in reality belongs to my August sovereign, whose will I was merely instrumental in carrying out. What was well done in that historic transaction recently completed at Portsmouth was planned by His Majesty and executed by me as his servant."

"I should like to draw attention to the fact that since we left the hospitable shores of the United States we have been saluted under the German flag, and to all intents and purposes living on a piece of German floating territory, and I need not remind you that the August ruler of that empire is a warm friend of the Russian Emperor and of President Roosevelt. I am sure, therefore, that I am the exponent of your own wishes when I propose that we use the honor of His Majesty, Emperor William the Second."

No details are given and no loss of life is reported.

If the fire burned in both directions from Lanes Way, it is estimated by several persons familiar with the class of business houses in that vicinity that the loss will reach $500,000, and may exceed that figure, although any estimate made at present would be a mere guess.

HIS PLEA IS "NOT GUILTY"

Commander Young Hears Charges Read at Court Martial.

MARE ISLAND, Cal., Sept. 18.—The Young court-martial convened at 10 o'clock this morning.

Commander Young, Judge Gear, his attorney, and the full board were present.

Naval Constructor Holden Evans was in the room and this gave rise to the question of the exclusion of naval experts.

After consulting the naval rules and regulations Rear Admiral Glass decided that Constructor Evans must retire.

The charges and specifications were read and Commander Young pleaded not guilty to each of the six charges.

Lieutenant Yates of the Bennington, called as the first witness, was not present, so Ernest E. West, the Judge Advocate was called and deposed that he was the custodian of the logs of the Bennington at Washington, D. C.

West produced them for the last days of the months of November and December, 1904, and said that for the first six months of this year the logs were not filled out under the signature of Commander Lucien Young. Judge Gear objected, as the logs were not produced before he only saw West's statement to rely on. West's statement was substituted by the offering of the books as a whole. Gear's objection then was withdrawn.

West was dismissed as a witness and warned by Admiral Glass not to discuss the trial outside. He then resumed his seat as Judge Advocate. Ensign Sahn of the Bennington was the next witness. He testified that Young was in command of the Bennington from November 1904 to July 21, 1905, with the exception of a brief suspension at Panama.

He said that on July 21 boiler B exploded, being forced aft against the bulkhead between the fore and aft fire rooms. The Bennington's hull, books were produced and identified by the witness and offered as evidence.

Judge Gear objected and after discussion Rear Admiral Glass upheld the objection and the books were not produced in evidence. Emil Fredericksen, the water tender of the Bennington, forward fire room, the next witness was sworn to and the court adjourned.

He fell to the pavement, a distance of about seventy-five feet and struck on his head. His fellow workmen picked him up unconscious with his skull crushed and gave no signs of life.

An ambulance was summoned, and the injured man was taken to the Roosevelt Hospital on Dwight way, where he died an hour later. Doctors Rinehardt, Riley and Rowell attended him.

SAYS HE MIXED RELIGION IN MONEY GETTING.

Fruitvale Woman Makes a Serious Charge Against Man and His Wife.

Through the profession of the same religion and the singing of psalms, it is alleged in a complaint made by Mrs. Rose Fruitvale, an aged resident of Fruitvale, that her confidence was won by Ira Aymar and his wife, who succeeded in getting her to loan them over $5000 on unsecured notes and, not satisfied with this, got her to deed them her home and sit them there wearing apparel.

Finally the matter reached the ears of some of the old lady's friends and she was taken to the office of Attorneys Johnson & Shaw by A. Rutherford, who are now engaged in trying to get back for her some of the money she loaned them.

The deed to her home had not been placed on record and was returned by Aymar and is now in the hands of Mrs. Aymar's attorneys.

Besides an allegation that their client has been egregiously deceived even worse than this is hinted at in the statement made by Mrs. Aymar, who says: "After they had got everything of value that I had they wanted me to go on a camping trip with them, and gave as their reason for wanting me to go that I was wanted a chaperone. I thought this was rather funny, as I had never heard of a married couple needing a chaperone, and one of my friends had told me that it is probably a pretty good thing for me that I did not go."

Mrs. Aymar will tell the court that Aymar has often taken a position before the photograph of her departed husband and said in loud voice, "I would deceive your wife," and would follow up such a declaration as this with the request that she give him $1000 or $2000.

He succeeded in getting loans in less of $500 and $800 at a time and on one occasion borrowed $1500, until all the money the old lady had was in his possession and he then told her that the money would need fear, for he and his wife would look out for her.

The fact that Aymar, whose occupation other than that of singing psalms was working in an intermittent sort of way at the carpenter's trade, seemed to have plenty of money was accounted for, it is stated by Mrs. Aymar, by the fact that Mrs. Aymar had fallen heir to several thousand dollars through the death of an uncle. From a day laborer the financial affairs of Aymar went from leaps and bounds until he employed men and built some houses. Some of them are now turned back to Mrs. Aymar, but at such figures that, it is stated, real estate men will not touch them owing to the location placed on them by Aymar, at whose figures she is trying to dispose of them.

The matter came up for hearing before Judge Mevin this morning, owing to the fact that he was engaged in the trial of a matter in the criminal court, and the hearing was postponed over until November 30, and it is stated that the matter may possibly be compromised by that time.

WIFE BEATS HIM TO DIVORCE

SOMEWHAT late in his application for a divorce, Peter E. Linster finds himself prosecuting an action for divorce in this county while his wife is already prosecuting a divorce in another State and is married a second time. The following letter was received at the County Clerk's office this morning:

"Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 15. John P. Cook, Esq., Dear Sir:—I am in the case begun in the Superior Court of Alameda county by Peter Linster against me, his late wife, was served on me a few days ago but he is a little late as a decree of divorce was granted me in Carson City, Nev., which freed me from all legal obligations. I was married to Peter Linster on the 24th of last December. Everything was regular and lawful and the divorce is duly entered and is on file and of record in that court. I am very truly yours, C. L. Fortier, formerly Mrs. Elizabeth Linster."

The notification is good news for Linster who will not now have to wait a year before he can again use his legitimate name of taking to himself another wife in case fancy should impel him in that direction.

GEORGE R. WELLS DESERTED WIFE TWO DAYS AFTER WEDDING.

WELL KNOWN SHIPPING MAN OF ALAMEDA PASSES AWAY IN NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—A courtship, a marriage and a separation all in six weeks is the record of the romance of George R. Wells and Mrs. George R. Wells, nee Truett, prominent in the younger circles of the "smart set." Here is their story in brief: They met in the early part of August, they were married on July 12, they parted forever on July 14.

Strenuous efforts were made to keep the story of their first and final quarrel secret. But it leaked out when Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Ollie Tobin, her bosom friend and confidante, registered at the St. Francis Hotel last Thursday night. They left the next day and took apartments at 1104 Sutter street.

Mrs. Wells was Miss Grace R. Truett, a Sacramento girl. Her relatives are well connected there. She is a tall and strikingly pretty blonde.

The husband is clerk in Judge Carroll Cook's court.

The couple met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Tobin, who are mutual friends of both. When the pair were first introduced it was remarked that they were "just made for each other."

Mrs. Wells soon became of the same opinion. He pressed his suit so ardently that the consent was given scarcely two weeks after they first met.

The couple were married secretly in the home of Judge Carroll Cook, 2601 Broadway, on September 12. Every effort was made to keep the fact quiet. "Cupid" Danforth withheld the announcement of the granting of the license. There were only three people present besides the Judge and the contracting parties, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Tobin and J. P. Stevens, stenographer in Judge Cook's court. The young couple determined to keep their secret for a year.

Just two nights after the ceremony came a quarrel which it is said is final. Wells left his bride, vowing never to return to her. Within the time the young wife was for comfort, and the two brides are now living at 1104 Sutter street.

"It is the old adage amended—'Married in haste, repented in haste.'" so rough that the boat became unmanageable. When it finally capsized no one was near, and for nearly an hour he drifted in the cold water clinging on desperately to the overturned boat.

Luckily for him, a launch containing a fishing party came along and picked him up. In the meantime the officials at the Port Point Life Saving Station sighted Johnson and had given the distress signal to one of the station boats which was out in the bay. The latter responded quickly, but when it reached the scene Johnson was safely on the boat with the fishing party. He was greatly relieved, however, and that, together with the terrible ordeal of facing the imminent prospect of being drowned, made him very ill.

The man's rescuers did not get there any too soon, for he could not have held out much longer. The part of his boat which was out of the water did not sink, but he was so weak and exhausted by the terrific exertion that was required to keep his head above the waves, he was also badly able to speak above a whisper, as he nearly wore his throat out crying for help. He was too badly used up last night to talk about his frightful experience, but he confessed a crowd about as soon as he shot as to go through it again.

ROMANCE BEGAN IN THIS CITY

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 18.—Jessie Elsie Johnson, a pretty widow of San Francisco, was married here by Judge F. F. Oster to James Cloyd Johnston, known throughout the country as the "Mayor of Cactus Flats." Back of the ceremony lies a romance stretching over eighteen years. Twenty-five years ago the couple were married in Oakland, moving to Los Angeles, where Mrs. Johnston secured a divorce, the troubles of the couple being a matter of public knowledge. She returned to San Francisco, and eight years ago married a painter named Johnson, who died a year later.

Since the death of her second husband Mrs. Johnston has been making a determined effort to bring about a reconciliation which was effected Wednesday, when the aged parents met for the first time in eighteen years at the ferry building. Neither for the time being was able to recover from a reaction of the great change which years had wrought on the other. All past differences were finally buried. When they separated eighteen years ago I. W. Hellman assisted in adjusting the property rights. Johnston is postmaster at Double on the desert and is reputed to be quite wealthy.

Mr. Talcott also said that the sanitary sewer was in need of repairs and the repairing of the same was committed to Supervisor Horner.

The consideration of the contract for drug supplies was deferred until a meeting of a full Board can be held.

A map of the Christine Plaster tract in Fruitvale was filed with the understanding, however, that the streets and avenues in it were not accepted.

MRS. EMMA MIDSON ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF BURGLARY.

The troubles of the Midson family, of North Oakland seem to be multiplying. Mrs. Emma Midson, whose children were recently taken away from her, was arrested last night on a charge of burglary preferred by Mrs. Nora Jurgens.

According to Mrs. Midson, she was a tenant of Mrs. Jurgens at 6699 San Pablo and was ejected because she could not pay her rent.

Yesterday she went to the yard where her clothing had been placed and took an article of dress that she says belonged to her. The arrest followed and this morning Police Judge Smith fixed her bonds at $200.

Two of Mrs. Midson's children are at the West Oakland Home, and two are with her mother-in-law. There is a charge of failure to provide for the minor children pending against her husband. In Police Judge Samuel's court, Mrs. Midson says her troubles are the result of her former neighbor's spite.

MELODRAMA AT THE MACDONOUGH

Commencing tonight the Macdonough Theater will offer for the next two weeks a melange of comedy, farce and melodrama. The Elfreth Company opens its season with the bright and pretty story, "The New South," written by Jas. E. Brimmer. The scene of the play is laid in Louisiana in 1873. The story deals with the troubles of the reconstruction days when every man's hand was raised against his neighbor. A young Federal officer is unjustly accused of murder. He is in love with a young Southern girl who is in turn loved by her cousin, a young Southerner who adopts dishonorable tactics and protects the real assassin, a negro. But through the work of a young Northerner, a doctor, the right murderer is found. The cloud is lifted from the young officer, the young people get married and everything ends happily.

The plot has enough melodramatic tinge to make the climax sensational. Manager Elfreth makes one of the strongest companies ever offered to theater goers of Oakland at popular prices.

ONE ARREST MADE IN THE A CITY WITHOUT ALAMEDA CASE IDLERS

Andrew C. Webb, Jr. of the Alameda Boating Club is Taken Into Custody.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 18--Disclosures made at the sensational investigation made by the Alameda Boating Club, at a special meeting Friday night, into the case of young Florence Cook, ward of Mr. and Mrs. John Tingman of 1600 Lafayette street, percolated in the arrest on Saturday night of Andrew C. Webb, Jr., a well-known oarsman, on a charge of criminal assault.

The complaint was sworn to by the 14-year-old girl when she was brought before City Justice Robert Bell Tappan at 1:30 p. m. Young Webb was being questioned at the time at the home of Al. Kihn, president of the boating club. He was notified by telephone to come to the police office, and when he arrived at 3 o'clock, he was placed under arrest by Chief of Police John Conrad. He walked into the police station, to be placed in a cell, without making any statement, and without having a lawyer present.

The complaint was sworn to before Judge Tappan instead of Judge Fred S. Cone, as the latter is a well-known member of the boating club's organization. One of its executive board. The defendant was held in default of $500 cash bail or $2,000 bonds, which his father, A. C. Webb of 1243 Regent street, endeavored unsuccessfully to secure yesterday.

Yesterday morning the girl swore to a rape complaint, and the first, which was thought might prove to be technically faulty, was dismissed. In the new complaint it is recited that when the alleged crime was committed in the basement of the Tingman residence on Saturday afternoon, September 2d, or a week before, the child's disappearance made the affair public, the prosecuting witness was under the age of sixteen years. The girl is said to be a little over fourteen years of age.

GIRL'S STORY. The girl's story is that upon the day of the alleged crime she had been taken out in a boat by Webb, who accompanied her home, the Tingman family being away. The girl, upon arrival at the premises, told the young man that she had to feed the chickens, and did not know how she could do so, as the door of the basement, where the feed was kept, was locked.

Webb, according to her story, offered to assist her to gain entrance to the place, and upon reaching the door, the key was found hanging in its usual place on a nail at one side, when the pair entered. Webb, the police say, declares he remained but five minutes in the basement, but the officers say they have as a witness a woman who knows the defendant, and who says she saw him in the three quarters of an hour before he and the girl were seen to come out.

Webb, who had previously borne a good reputation, and who is a member of the Alameda Boating Club, was employed in a clerical capacity by Trewett & Penabaz in San Francisco. Pending further developments, that Webb's members take the stand that they should not move off until the matter. The committee of five named at the special session to carry on the investigation of the case and render assistance to Chief Conrad, held a meeting at 10 a. m. yesterday in Justice Bell's courtroom in the City Hall, but very little could be learned afterward as to the result of the committee's deliberations, further than that it was deemed wise to await the course of events. It was clear that further sensational developments, growing out of the arrest of Webb, were anticipated. The police are working on clues, which may lead shortly to the disclosure of the names of others alleged to be involved in the crime, around whom a coil of evidence is being drawn, which, when it is tightened, may lead to several further arrests for implication in the shocking outrages.

SECRETARY TALKS. Frank E. Browning, former secretary of the club, and who has labored ardently with President Al. Kihn and others in working on the case which for a time seemed to put the organization in an unpleasant light, said, to an Oakland reporter, after the meeting of the committee yesterday: "We decided that it would be best to take no official action while awaiting further developments which may follow the arrest of Webb. We simply set it down as a fact that nothing happened at the boat club. We know nothing new except that Webb has been arrested. He is a member of our club, and has always been in good standing, and until something more definite appears than the story of this girl, who lies in nearly every other statement, we can do nothing further."

In the simple word of a girl who has made so many erroneous statements, we can't take action. If anything should come out in the trial to prove Webb guilty, you can see what the club's action would be. We do not wish to take any snap judgment."

The officers of the Alameda Boating Club are: President, Al. Kihn; vice-president, W. C. Connelly; secretary, J. J. Hammond, Jr.; treasurer, A. G. Bell; captain, B. B. Thorning; lieutenant-captain, H. Hunt; sergeant-at-arms, Gus Horst; executive board, P. S. Cone, R. Boyd and George Miller.

STRIKE CALLED OFF. NEW YORK, Sept. 18--A strike of the Packing Boxmakers' Union, declared yesterday ago in a large number of factories in Greater New York, has been called off yesterday. The men had been on a nine-hour day, but were instructed to go back on any terms they could obtain from the employers.

Dying of Famines. In its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a story of torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes William Myers of Cresskill, N. J., "after trying different medicines, I tried King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed. Goods: drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington streets, price 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

G. W. CALDERWOOD WRITES OF BUSY PLACE WHERE GLOVES ARE MADE.

Editor TRIBUNE:--There are no loafers in Gloversville, N. Y. The glove industry alone give 123 reasons for it. By that I mean that there are 123 glove making institutions in this little city of 20,000 population; every one of these factories is busy and would be busier if help could be found. Hemmers, stitchers and liners are wanted in nearly every shop. Signs can be seen all over town for help. And yet this entire population seems to be on the payrolls of the glove makers. Many persons who do not work at glove making in the shops do so at home. By this means a "set of hands" say 100, may be at work in a certain factory, while 200 persons may be working in their home for the same factory.

There is plenty of money in circulation and the merchants keep open three nights a week to accommodate the citizens. A strike was on hand here a couple of years ago that lasted six months. There won't be another strike here for years to come if at all. Strange to say, the men who struck were the manufacturers. They wanted the "open shop" to prevail. The unions opposed it and then the manufacturers said "We'll shut down until you change your minds." The union men held out six months and then agreed to the open shop and went to work again.

LARGEST OF ITS KIND. I will not attempt to tell how gloves are made or the many styles they make here. They make all kinds. It is the largest glove making city in the world. I was told that skins come here from Europe to be "treated" and then go back to be turned into gloves. As many women and girls work at the business, as men and get equal pay with the men. Some women get from $2 to $5 a day--none make less than $10 a week.

This is also headquarters for the manufacture of "patent" leather. The largest glove maker here is Congressman LUCIUS N. LITTAEUR, who has the New York Sun accused him of grafting $1700 in a glove deal with the government. The citizens of Gloversville sneer at the idea of Littaeur stooping low enough to pick up a bribe that the New York Sun accused him of grafting $1700 in a glove deal with the government. The citizens of Gloversville sneer at the idea of Littaeur stooping low enough to pick up a bribe that the New York Sun accused him of grafting $1700 in a glove deal with the government.

He is a large stockholder in the Hotel Kingsborough--a big hotel for a city of ten times the population of Gloversville. He gave $50,000 to build a hospital here named in honor of his father, Nathan Littaeur, a pioneer glove maker.

LITTAEUR THE LEADER. The Littaeur glove factory employs several thousand hands. The first time I saw Congressman Littaeur he had a bundle of glove peels under his arm going to the factory. He is the life of the town--respected by Republicans and Democrats alike, and will be nominated again without opposition, they say and elected by a larger majority than ever.

Mr. Littaeur weighs about 240 pounds and has a purse as large with both ends open for the benefit of the community whenever desired. He is a great admirer of Victor H. Metcalf, and says that he was one of the hardest workers in Congress. Mr. Littaeur was in Oakland a few months ago and he told me that he predicted it would outgrow San Francisco before many years. He says that Congress will never again be slow to do its duty toward the Oakland harbor. The completion of that harbor by the time the Western Pacific reaches there will result in an influx of Eastern capital that will astonish everybody.

He spoke of California's strong delegation in Congress and said that when it wanted anything it always got it.

He says there is five times as much enterprise on the coast as he expected to find and that its prosperity has just begun. Eastern capital will no longer hold back from making investments there and won't be long until there will be plenty of money piling in there from every financial stronghold in the East.

MOURNING JUDGE GREENE. It was only a few days ago that I learned of the death of Judge Greene. He will be sadly missed by hundreds of Civil War veterans. I never shall forget the morning he met me on the street and asked me to send him a list of deserving veterans. I did so, and from that day to the day I left home he made it his personal business to see that the list was overlooked in the distribution of short service appointments. Long live his memory.

MANY INQUIRIES. I expect to see the day when some wide-awake Californian will come into this State and get up a colony of 1000 or 2000 persons and locate them somewhere in our State. My audiences this year have been much larger than they were last season and the inquiries about California about double. I have been asked to distribute, and haven't been asked to distribute any more.

It is very seldom that I find any one that knows anything about Oakland or Alameda county. Los Angeles, Pasadena and Redlands is about all there is to California with most persons I have met.

"How far is Oakland from Los Angeles?" comes to me twenty or more times a day. When I tell them they think I live in a wilderness.

ALL DAIRIES. There is very little farming done in New York. Most of the farms here have been converted into dairy ranches. Farm hands are very scarce. Farms with huge barns and big dwellings substantially built can be bought for $50 an acre. Milk sells at from 8 to 10 cents a gallon delivered at the cheese factories. In some parts of the State Italians are coming in at a lively rate and it won't be long until they will settle in colonies in every county. The cities of this State are filled with them and they have gone into every sort of business. I have run across hundreds of Italian women peddling notions in the country.

I have been told here that California apples and peaches are coarse and dry. To those who mention this I ask them if they ever heard of Watsonville, Santa Rosa, Grass Valley or Chico. I am constantly reminded of the California flea. I tell them, "Yes, we have fleas--one flea to every million of mosquitoes in the East." And yet when they are through fault-finding they invariably ask: "Which route to California do you consider the best, and how long will it take us to get there?" Chauncey M. Depew is done for in this State. The farmers of Western New York hate him very much. He has always passed before them as an upright man--honest to the core. He has always been selected by them as their speaker at county fairs and dairy gatherings, but since he has admitted that $25,000 a year from the Equitable Life Insurance Company, they want nothing more to do with him.

READY TO COME. One of the prettiest farms in this State is owned by a man who wants to move to Oakland. He is too old to work any more and he told me that he would like to trade it for Oakland property. There are two other families in his neighborhood who say they will go to California too, if he goes. Two business men of Cuba, N. Y., three farmers and one dairyman near Hannibal, a paint dealer of Utica, a lumber dealer of Oswego county and two young men of the city of Oswego, have been seeking information of me through the morning paper, and I have been seeking information of me in general and Alameda county in particular.

IS A BOOSTER. I devote from ten to fifteen minutes in each of my addresses, to the advantages of Alameda county. I emphasize the possibilities of Oakland with the best thought at my command and at the close of my meetings the air is full of "California fever." I have no pictures to show, no literature to give out. It would pay the city and county big to send a man with me through the East next season. Some of my outdoor meetings are composed entirely of farmers and their families, and it would be no trick at all to get up a colony or two in nearly every State of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and New York.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII OPENS TONIGHT

Everything is Now Complete for the Performance This Evening.

Engagements have been cancelled by many people, for tonight the greatest outdoor attraction in the world will begin its week's engagement at thirty-ninth street and San Pablo avenue. "Last Days of Pompeii" has been heralded for the past four weeks, until every man, woman and child is interested and anxious to witness this marvelous midsummer night's spectacle and judge for themselves as to whether the press reports have been exaggerated and the people of the Eastern cities right in their praise of this great show. It has been called the most spectacular and gorgeous amusement enterprise that has ever been conceived, but the citizens of Oakland always demand that they be shown before they will commit themselves. All day yesterday there were thousands of people gathered around the big five-acre lot at thirty-ninth street and the city of Oakland, California, the hundreds of skilled workmen, electricians and pyrotechnists erecting this gigantic enterprise, and many were the comments made, which tended to show that all were much impressed with the size and magnitude of the attraction. The tiers upon tiers of seats, so arranged as to afford each of the 10,000 a perfect view of the entire stage, which is 400 feet wide and 300 feet deep, set with acres of massive scenery cleverly painted that even in the daylight seemed that they were gazing upon a real instead of a painted city, caused a manner of favorable comment. Many watched for hours the skilled pyrotechnists constructing the beautiful set pieces which are to be shown tonight. Mayor Frank K. Mott's generous outlay were seen upon a huge framework 32x40 feet as well as "Nagana Falls by Moonlight," 50x200 feet, and "The Rose of Summer," 60x20 feet. These are a few of the special features that will be shown. After tonight the people of Oakland and of all of the surrounding country will be ready to add their praises to this beautiful spectacular exhibition ever seen. ## The Milk in the Coconut

The Stockton Independent says "THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE persists in the contention that the University farm should be located at Berkeley." The Stockton paper may befool its own readers with this statement, but every reader of this journal knows that THE TRIBUNE has made no such contention. It has contended that the farm should be located as immediately contiguous to the University as possible in compliance with the provisions of the act making the appropriation for the purchase. So much for that misrepresentation. However, the Independent goes on to compare the experimental work of the Agricultural Department with the mission of the College of Agriculture, to which the University farm is to be attached. There is no analogy between the two. The Agricultural Department is not engaged in giving young men and women technical training in agrostology, horticulture and other branches of husbandry. Its work is purely experimental. It is intended to demonstrate what can be done with different kinds of crops in different kinds of soils. The University has experiment stations, but the University farm is not intended to be an experiment station. Its fundamental mission will be to give students at the State University practical training by object lessons in scientific agriculture, horticulture and irrigation. There will be experimental work of course, but it will be under the immediate observation of the students. Apparently, the object of a group of interior papers in striving to get the farm located as far as possible from the University is to tear the Agricultural College away from the University, make it a separate institution under separate control and locate it elsewhere than Berkeley. That is the scheme advocated by Professor Craig of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and controverted by Professor Bailey of Cornell. The controversy is therefore, at base, a question whether the University shall be disrupted and a separate institution established for giving the youth of California agricultural training. It is a scheme opposed to the overwhelming demonstrations in favor of economy and usefulness afforded by the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri and Cornell. Local selfishness and covert hostility to the State University are at the bottom of it.

A Hypercritical Moral Crusader

The Alameda Argus accuses THE TRIBUNE of growing "hysterical" over the outrage perpetrated a few nights ago on a friendless orphan girl of weak intellect. What has so suddenly cooled the virtuous ardor of the Argus in its demand for justice? Its intrepid demand for a full investigation has taken the queer turn of finding fault with others for seconding it. In talking about it demands a bill of particulars for the assertion that "Alameda has gained an unenviable notoriety during the last five years for crimes against chastity." If the Argus will search its own files and examine the court records it will find abundant proof to sustain the statement. But it is not the purpose of this paper to attack the moral reputation of Alameda or to make the Cook case an excuse for reprinting all the scandalous events which have occurred in that town for five years past. If the Argus desires to rake over the filthy beds of the past, it can do so, but we must decline the challenge to the task. Nor will THE TRIBUNE be goaded into the attitude of publishing reminiscent matter offensive to good taste and derogatory to the good people of the Encinal City. Our position is simply the one professedly taken by our Alameda contemporary. We desire that justice be done without fear or favor, that the guilty may be punished and the innocent vindicated. We have not taken the trouble to inquire why the Argus should become lukewarm in its demand for a searching investigation into the facts of this case, but we regard it as a trifle ungracious, not to say invidious, for it to sneer in its customary ferocious fashion at THE TRIBUNE for bearing a hand in the cause of decency and fair play. Deftly working itself around into the position of a defender of the town against outside defamation may be clever tactics in masking a change of front, but it will hardly throw dust in the eyes of the experienced observer. Has the wrong fish been harpooned?

The Charming Simplicity of the Swamp-Land Ring

From the very outset the private owners of the swamp-lands of California have depended upon a very peculiar agreement to induce the Government of the United States to subsidize the reclamation of this private land in the amount of $8,000,000. The argument depended upon for the success of this very thrifty scheme is the preservation of the navigability of the Sacramento River. They say if the Government will levee the river and levee all of its affluents from the foothills to the channel of the river the Government will thereby produce a very navigable stream, and then the owners of the swamp lands will proceed to the reclamation of their property. The journalistic promoter of this scheme declares:

"The desire of the Californians is that Congress shall so deepen and rectify the river channels and aid in the construction of levees that the reclamation of the swamp-lands shall be made possible."

This argument has found expression in various forms. In one instance it was declared that if the Government of the United States would take care of its navigable river as it should and prevent its overflow the owners of the overflowed lands would find their reclamation economical and profitable.

The innocent simplicity of this argument is truly charming. Swamp-land in the Sacramento Valley means land which at the flood stages of the river and creeks is overflowed. As soon as the land is built up so that it does not overflow it ceases to be swamp—is of itself reclaimed and becomes safely arable. The terms "swamp-land" and "overflowed land" are interchangeable. If the Government will so control its navigable river that it will not overflow its banks, the land would be practically reclaimed. To do this it must conduct all the streams which are affluents of the Sacramento from the Sierra Nevadas and the Coast Range through high embankments from the point where they emerge from the foothills to the channel of the Sacramento River. It is actually claimed that it is the duty of the Government to do this work, and that its duty in this regard arises out of its obligation to "rectify the channels, scour them out and make the Sacramento River capable of carrying its maximum floods into the Suisun Bay without overflowing the adjacent lands." If all the affluents of the Sacramento were conducted between high levees into the channel of that river the adjacent lands will be reclaimed. In the experience of reclamation it has been found that the soil will take care of all the water which falls from the clouds. Reclaimed islands, with levees around them, constituting cofferdams, have demonstrated their ability to take care of the rainfall.

What the proponents of this thrifty scheme ask of the Government is that it shall prevent its navigable river and its tributaries from overflow, and this argument evidently proceeds upon the theory that the Government of the United States is so innocently simple-minded that it will not be able to understand that this proposition covers the whole range of complete reclamation. When you have prevented the overflow of the Sacramento and its tributaries you have reclaimed the overflowed lands. Their swamp condition ceases as soon as the flood maximums recede. The high summer condition of these lands is dry, except as to considerable areas which lie below the present drainage facilities of these areas, but these areas are very considerable. Of the 1,200,000 acres which are swamp simply because they are overflowed, at least 1,000,000 of acres would be as completely reclaimed from their swamp condition by the construction of the levees which the swamp-land ring declare it to be the duty of the Government to construct as could by any possibility be desired.

If these swamp-land schemers were not disingenuous they would say to the Government: "If you will prevent the overflow of the lands we will proceed immediately with their cultivation." They are saying the exact equivalent of this when they say: "If you will confine the flood waters of the Sacramento Valley to the channel of the Sacramento River and its affluents we will proceed with the reclamation of the swamp-lands."

There is a revival of the report that the Virginia & Truckee railroad will be extended across the mountains to Sacramento or some other point in the tidewater region of San Francisco bay, but it has not gained in verisimilitude. The provocation for the move is said to be the cutting off of the Virginia & Truckee from the traffic of Tonopah, Goldfield and other mining camps of Southern Nevada. Building in to Sacramento will not restore the lost traffic to the Virginia & Truckee nor will it afford an independent outlet to tidewater for that line, which is purely local and subsidiary. The Virginia & Truckee will have to be extended both ways if it is to compete with the Southern Pacific for transmountain business.

There may be no significance in the fact that the bulls' head breakfast of the Iroquois Club at San Leandro was boycotted by Democrats of other organizations and by the great majority of the Iroquois members, but it certainly is not encouraging to the fusionists in San Francisco. Municipal fusion was the subject of most of the talks, and that fact appears to have made the affair more lugubrious. The scant attendance of real Democrats is not a strong indication that the rank and file of the Unterrified will rally with any great unanimity or enthusiasm behind a hybrid ticket headed by a Republican.

Burbank on Child-rearing

In his speech at the Palace Hotel banquet Luther Burbank took occasion to repudiate the absurd and vulgar theory impudently ascribed to him that children are to be bred and "improved" like domestic animals and vegetables. The human race has a law of selection of course, but it operates altogether differently from anything else in animate nature. Nothing more innately degrading to the family relation, to say nothing of the ethical and psychological principles involved, can be imagined than the barnyard dogma that the human family can be bred up as cattle, pigs and chickens are. This dogma is a favorite theme for people who have a penchant for changing affinities, and whose prominence in public is in inverse ratio to the number of children they have at home. It is a captivating topic in particular to the woman who has had three husbands and one child, and who discusses the sexual relation from the standpoint of the breeder of prize stock. Mr. Burbank does not view the evolution of the human race from the gray mare standpoint; on the contrary, he has old-fashioned ideas about the rearing and training of children. He says:

"Did you ever think what is the most pliable and most precocious product of all the ages? It is not pigs, mules, hogs or locomotives, cotton or corn—but children. Children cannot all be treated alike; each has his or her special individuality, which is the most valuable of all endowments. If all were alike no progress could be made, and right here comes the weakest point in the present educational system."

"Don't feed children on maudlin sentimentalism or dogmatic religion, give them nature. Let their souls drink in all that is pure and sweet. Rear them, if possible, amid pleasant surroundings. If they come into the world with souls groping in darkness, let them see and feel the light. Don't terrify them in early life with the fear of an after world. There never was a child that was made more noble and good by the fear of a hell. Let nature teach them the lessons of good and proper living, combined with an abundance of well-balanced nourishment. Those children will grow to be the best men and women. Put the best in them by contact with the best outside. They will absorb it as a plant does the sunshine and the dew."

This is all wholesome, rational and in healthy consonance with the immutable laws which govern human development. It is ethically and religiously sound. There is not the faintest suggestion in it of the nasty theory that man is a purely breeding animal.

PALACE SLEEPING CAR.

Have you loitered in the smoking room
Of a palace sleeping car,
Keeping tab upon the water tank
As you smoke your last cigar?
Have you observed the tumbler?
Has it occurred to you
The many different uses
That people put it to?

Here's a fellow with a colic—
His face is pale and drawn—
Pours paregoric in it
And bids his pain begone.
Next comes a bilious drummer,
Who at the tumbler halts
And fills the vessel blithely
With a slug of epsom salts

He's followed by a person
With the customary whim
That a sciditz powder nightly
Is just the thing for him,
And on his heels comes some one
Who fancies something hot,
And takes a swig of Radey
To touch the chilly spot.

One takes a morphine tablet
Which the tumbler has to drown,
And another drinks a bumper
To help a blue pill down.
One mixes up a gargle,
And one a lemon squash;
Another gives his mouth a bath
And then his teeth a wash.

You may talk of golden beakers;
You may boast of pewter mugs;
You may chortle over tankards
And rave of silver jugs,
But there's not a drinking vessel
In restaurant or bar
That's in it with the tumbler
Of a palace sleeping car!

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest help-mate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality. —Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman. If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

GET OUT.

Get out where the bayous are shaded and brown,
Get out where rose petals are eddying down,
Get out where the world wears a dew-spangled crown,
Get out, oh, get out, oh, get out of the town—
Get out of the town in the morning.

Get out where the ripples run glad in the sun,
Get out to the fields where the green billows run,
Get out where the forces of Nature have fun,
Get out, oh, get out, to where day is begun—
Get out of the town in the morning.

Get out of the town in the morning and hear
The birds in the thickets all carolling clear,
Where the mocking-bird hollers: "Good morning! Good cheer!"
Where the sky arches blue and where heaven seems near—
Get out of the town in the morning.

Get out of the town at the break of the day,
Find a dusty, bloom-bordered and winding old way
That leads past a cot where are children at play,
Where each breath is rare wine and there's nothing to pay—
Get out of the town in the morning.

Get out in the country and be just a boy,
Get out and drink deep of the old-fashioned joy,
Get out where no trials shall bring you annoy,
Where God walks in splendor and days never cloy—
Get out of the town in the morning.

ODDITIES.

This is a description of a game of golf which was played in the Shetland islands one night this summer: "The first ball was driven from the tee at five minutes to 12 (midnight) and a full double round of eighteen holes was played, the match terminating at 2.30. The light was so good that the balls could easily be seen where they lay after having been driven well from the tee and there was never any difficulty in finding them. Shortly after 12 o'clock the lark was heard in full song; and it was broad daylight by the time the match was over. The experiment was such a success that it was repeated on several subsequent occasions."

A traveler in the Panama country has this to say of one of his boatmen: "The negro limped from a sore in his foot. He explained that his toe had been attacked the previous night by a vampire bat, which paid him frequent visits though he was never conscious of the blood-sucking process until he awoke."

To keep the channels and the bar of the river Mersey at Liverpool at a depth of twenty-seven feet at low water, 8,000,000 tons of sand and stone were dumped into the estuary last year. Since 1890 about 88,000,000 tons have been removed in this way.

SOME BIG FAMILIES.

John Gully, grandfather of the ex-president of the British House of Commons, had twenty-four children. A year or two ago a Northampton (England) shoemaker entered as his eldest in the police court that he was the father of thirty-two children, of whom twenty-seven are living. Twenty years ago an English city housed a couple who were "the happy father and delighted mother of thirty-three children," ten of them being alive in 1910. But the record in family numbers is believed to belong to Scotland. It is that of a Scotch weaver in the sixteenth century, whose wife bore him sixty-two children. Only twelve died in childhood, forty-six sons and four daughters living to be twenty-one years and upward. This almost incredible record is said to be fully and absolutely authenticated. Sir John Bowes and three other gentlemen each adopted and reared ten of this prodigious family. A century ago there died in Jamaica a woman named Mills. Her age was given as 118 and she was followed to the grave by 285 children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren—no fewer than sixty of whom, all named Ebenezer, belonged to

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

ENTERTAINMENT AT MILL VALLEY

BEAUTIFUL HOME AND GROUNDS OF G. T. MARSH OPENED IN CAUSE OF CHARITY.

One of the most interesting as well as romantic entertainments of the year was that given on the beautiful grounds of G. T. Marsh in Mill Valley Saturday evening, at which a number of Oakland people were present.

The affair was given for the benefit of the Out Door League of Mill Valley. This league has done excellent work in beautifying the valley. As a result of the kindness and generosity of Mr. Marsh in opening his grounds to the public, the league fund was increased several hundred dollars.

The Marsh home and grounds are situated in an ideal spot in a large redwood grove. The home and grounds are fashioned after Japanese style, and no detail is lacking to make them complete. There are nooks and corners and cottages at every turn on the forty acres. On the night of the entertainment thousands of Japanese lanterns turned the grove and grounds into a veritable fairyland.

The guests from San Francisco and Oakland were met at Mill Valley when they got off the train and were transferred to a special train provided by the Mt. Tamalpais Scenic Railway Company, which, by the way, gave excellent service and handled the crowd in a very satisfactory manner.

Scattered throughout the grounds were numerous booths, which were well patronized.

The entertainment, which was given under the direction of George C. Bornemann, of Oakland, was one of the great successes of the season. The stage was arranged in the center of the redwood grove, and the seats were the hillside the location being a natural amphitheater. A large calcium light was thrown on the stage, giving a striking effect. Those present, who had been at the Bohemian Club grove jinks pronounced the Marsh stage far more romantic than the San Francisco clubs.

The programme arranged by Mr. Bornemann was most complete and high class, and was a great success. Among those on the programme were Jos. Rosborough of the De Koven Club of the University of California and the Athenian Quartette.

After the performance Mr. Marsh and Mr. Bornemann were showered with congratulations because of the great success of the undertaking.

After a several weeks trip to the Portland Fair Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will make their home in Garberville Humboldt county.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 18.—Margaret Denham, a dignified woman of 50, whose hair is silvering, who is slender and who speaks with the attractive accent of the folks of Surrey, England, from which county she hails, called at the Adams street court a day or so ago with an agent of the Legal Aid society, to see if she could not get a warrant for the arrest of her husband, Richard J. Lisboa, on a charge of bigamy.

She was exceedingly conscientious about it, and did not want to do the man any wrong, and was so fearful that she was not legally married, in face of the facts, that she signed her maiden name to her affidavit.

Mrs. Lisboa's story, as told to the clerk of the court, resulted in the issuance of a warrant for Lisboa's arrest and the detectives who had it in their possession believed that he would return from Brazil to conduct some legal business with the Central Lard Company in the Produce Exchange. He is still in Brazil, though, and yesterday Mrs. Lisboa, the second, called for Barbadoes as stewardess on one of the Booth line of steamships. When she returns she will try again, it is said, to have her husband placed under arrest.

Lisboa is 60, although he "makes up" like a person ten years younger, and he is a successful business man. He was 51 to Miss Denham when she met him in 1903, according to his story, and she was a spinster of 49.

MET ABOARD A SHIP.
The meeting was on one of the Lamport & Holt Company's steamships in the Brazilian trade and the ship was speeding to Rio Janeiro when the love affair began. Margaret was the stewardess of the vessel, the ministering angel to the passengers daintily in her offices and deft in dealing with the victims of the awful malady of the sea. Lisboa seemed to fall deeply in love with the woman, and as he watched the graceful stewardess as she soothed the terrors of the deep by her ministrations to the sick women on board, he was convinced that even in hours of ease she would be a model. That is, he made Margaret believe that such was his conviction, but now she says he is a base deceiver, she knows that he had another wife, and she is full of resentment toward him because she thinks he plotted to have her turned out on the street, the companion of evil people—at her age, too.

Lisboa told her that he was successful in business, and she knows now that he was and is today a mighty good salesman in the lard line. He is well schooled in the graces of life, too, for his early training was in Washington, D. C., where his father, Portuguese by descent, was second secretary of the Brazilian legation years and years ago. The meetings of the stewardess, who had a nice family line of her own, and the man were frequent on the trip to Rio, and before the vessel reached the Brazilian port she was head over ears in love with him and had promised to be his wife. The meeting was early in 1903, and several months after that Miss Denham met Lisboa in Brooklyn and they went to the rectory of Grace Church and were married by the Rev. Charles F. J. Wrigley.

WEDDING TRIP TO LONDON.
That was on the 27th of October of that year and the pair made their wedding trip to London and its Surrey environments and had a mighty fine honeymoon. Of course, Mrs. Lisboa threw up her office as stewardess on the Lamport & Holt line. The project of the pair was to go to Rio, or Para, and set up housekeeping there and the bride of nearly 50 was as gay as a much younger woman would have been at the outlook.

She has followed him thousands of miles since then with a desire to see him behind prison bars and she was pleased at the outlook for him. She says that she had no idea of the depths of his rascality until one day in 1904 in the Royal Hotel, at Rio, when he seized her by the throat, shook her while she was still in bed and gave her a blow in the chest. She had been investigating his pockets and she had found the card of a woman in them. The card read thus:

MRS. M. G. LISBOA,
Dealer in
Fancy and Dry Goods, Notions,
Gloves, Laces, Ladies' and Gentlemen's Underwear,
Stationery, Candles,
Cigars, etc.,
Corner of Prospect and Tremont
Avenues, New York.

Margaret wanted to know who the other Mrs. Lisboa was and he told her that she was his mother. That satisfied her for a while, but she could not forgive the blow, and she had him arrested by the Rio police. The Brazilian authorities saw no reason why two loving souls should be separated because of a simple little shaking and a blow, and so they worked on Mrs. Lisboa's feelings until she decided that she would not continue the prosecution. The pair got together again, and in a moment of confidence Lisboa told Margaret that he had lied, that the woman in New York was not his wife, although she wanted to be, and that he had simply allowed her to use his name. The confidence of Margaret, the stewardess, was shaken, though, and she never trusted Lisboa again.

SHE'S WISER NOW.
One day he went off on a business trip to Para and left her in the house of a friend in Rio. And the friend seemed to persist in introducing Margaret to low people, and it was not long before she realized, she says, that the purpose of all this was to make her a social outcast. She became more convinced of that the next time she saw her husband, for he proposed to her, she declares to open a house of ill repute in Rio. There was a violent quarrel and Margaret left him, never to return to him, she says. She had kept his picture and one of the New York woman's cards, and with these she started for this city. She had very little money left, but she had enough to keep herself a week or two in comfort, and she thinks she will be forced then, when she gets through the prosecution of Lisboa, to go back to Lamport & Holt or the Red D line, where she has also been employed, and ask for another job as stewardess. She is wiser now—wiser after fifty years of an uneventful life except for the chapter about the wedding.

THE OTHER MARRIAGE.
She established herself in Brooklyn, at 59 Joralemon street, and then she went to see about the other woman. She found the other wife, a Margaret, to Margaret Gorman in maidenhood, and a much younger woman than she. This was the wife who claimed Lisboa as her real husband and after identifying his photograph in the hands of the Surrey Margaret and showing a duplicate picture of him from the same photographic negative the woman told about her marriage to him. That was on the 31st day of July, 1894, by the Rev. Father Ryan, of the Roman Catholic Church in West Fifty-first street street, when she was only 22 and Lisboa said he was but 35. The first of the Margarets was a bit indignant when the Surrey woman said she, too, was his wife, although only a successor, but she declared that she would not appear to prosecute Lisboa.

"I think she still thinks a lot of him," suggested Margaret the second, in talking to a reporter. "He has not been supporting her, but she still treasures some of his property, which she left with her."

Mrs. Lisboa, the second, went to the office of the Legal Aid Society, and one of its agents was sent with her to help her in gathering up data on which to have a warrant for bigamy issued against the man. They got a transcript of the original marriage in 1894 and also a duplicate of the second wedding certificate, issued by the Rev. Mr. Wrigley.

FOR FIFTY YEARS SHE IS A HAPPY WIFE IN THE HOUSE SHE COMES AS A BRIDE

"Be satisfied with yourself and everybody else."

As he said it Isaac Newton Dobbins, seventy-five years young, lay back in his chair, crossed his legs, slipped his glasses up on his forehead, and proceeded to tell how easy it is to grow old gracefully—provided you have the same wife and the same home for fifty years.

He lives in the very house in Verona, N. J., to which he took his bride, Katherine Hedden fifty years ago last February. There all their children have been born—Justus Dobbins, the son, who has a home of his own now, and the two daughters, Bertha, who is now Mrs. Day, and Mary, who is now Mrs. Lutjens. There are four little Dobbins—three girls and one boy, and one little Lutjens a girl but not a single Day. All of them were born in the same house to which proud Isaac Newton Dobbins took his wife from Orange to Verona, in the days when that part of Jersey was pretty thinly populated.

The only reason why Justus the only boy, doesn't live home, is because his father has given him the old homestead, further up the street. This was built in 1815 on the old Dobbins farm. Now it is busy Bloomfield Avenue, which runs from Newark to Caldwell, and the spreading Dobbins farm of long ago is now out up into building lots.

The Dobbinses pride themselves on the fact that they are the only couple in all New Jersey who have lived fifty years in the same house. They came to it fifty years ago as a bride and bridegroom. There are other Jersey people who have had golden weddings, but not in the same house to which they came on the day of their marriage.

My father gave me the land," said the old gentleman to a writer for the World Magazine, "and I built the house. It's a good house, too. The foundations were made to last, and so were the timbers. The wind didn't shake it, and even if we didn't have modern plumbing it was easy enough to put it in."

Mr. Dobbins raised his glasses and looked around with evident satisfaction. This gaze took in the new wall paper, the plate glass windows, the steam heater, the running water which the advantage of time had made possible in this house of by-gone days.

"We've got a fresh coat of paint outside, too," he observed, "even if this is the oldest house round here, and a porcelain bath tub upstairs."

Just then a brisk old lady bustled into the room—Mrs. Dobbins. "I've had this girl for fifty years," said the old gentleman, gallantly, "and I'm not disposed to part with her yet. We've had too good a time. Isn't that so, mother?"

For an answer Mrs. Dobbins smiled, picked up her baby granddaughter and took off her glasses.

"How you take on, father," she laughed.

Then she told something of their fifty years in the same house.

"I guess it was the church across the street that made it so pleasant for us here," she added. "We have worshipped there for fifty years, and Mr. Dobbins's folks worshipped twenty-five years before. My husband's father was one of the original trustees and Mr. Dobbins went to his first meeting sitting on his father's knee. It's the same church, too.

"Why are we so happy? Oh, that's easy to answer. We have always had our children with us. They never had to go out for their good times. They have had their fun right here. It is a great source of satisfaction to see them grow up and become men and women right in the old house. We have always been united in the work for the church. We have always entertained the different preachers that have come here—that is very pleasant. For the rest, we don't worry, we dress well enough, and we have plenty to eat. Even if our house isn't the newest in the town, we don't feel so bad."

Old Mr. Dobbins was attending most carefully.

"That's right, mother," he put in, approvingly. "If you can't get along with a person, get along without him. Be satisfied with yourself and everybody else. That's real happiness. And I guess we've had a lot of fun just following out this."

Mr. Dobbins rose from his chair, walked over to his wife of fifty years and planted a good honest kiss right in the middle of her mouth.

"Stop, father, in front of folks, protested Mrs. Dobbins, the red mantling up into the white of her cheeks.

"Nonsense, mother," laughed the old man. "You know mighty well you're not ashamed to have folks see me kiss you. I'll do it again if you say a anything."

The color of the face depends upon the healthy condition of the tiny blood vessels called capillaries, which carry the blood to the skin. These form a network throughout the skin, dividing and subdividing until they become so small that they can be seen only by the microscope. To keep these tiny blood vessels in a state of activity so blood can flow through them is the way to preserve the skin. As age advances they wither away, so that the skin is not properly nourished, and that is why the skin in the aged is colorless and dried up. To have a fine complexion the face must be kept

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—John Grady, a longshoreman earning $12 a week, was arrested yesterday in Brooklyn, charged with bigamy. It was found, according to the complaint of his first wife, that he was maintaining a second establishment near his old home, while he pretended to be earning double wages by acting as night watchman.

Grady and wife No. 1 married eleven years ago. There are five children—all girls. Recently his first wife says, Grady began to stay out nights. A few nights ago, the longshoreman entertained a party of friends, and the boys can make frequent trips. Grady's tongue began to wag and later he talked in his sleep.

Flustered, Mrs. Dobbins promptly changed the subject from the simple life to the complex life—the life of Jersey now that the railroads have made commuters of its inhabitants.

"Why, I can remember," she said, "when there were no railroads at all up here in North Jersey. I was born in Orange in 1833, and all we had were stage coaches that took the mail from Morristown to New York. I went to school in Grove street, Orange, when they were building the railroad. I remember very well the first locomotive that went up. Our teacher dismissed the school so that all the children could go out to see the first train. Why, I've seen our farm here change from pasture and meadow to building lots."

This fine old couple expect to live many years yet. Both are in excellent good health. The old gentleman is a six-footer, and has a forty-six-inch chest.

His wife, not more than half his size, seems to be just as hearty.

All Verona is proud of the Dobbinses. Mr. Dobbins is the oldest trustee in point of service of the Methodist Church—across the street where his family have worshipped ever since it was built—a little matter of seventy-five years. There are several hundreds of newer houses in Verona than the Dobbins one, but it is the show place of the town, shining with white paint and nestling among ancestral trees.

"Be satisfied with yourself and everybody else," seems to be a good maxim, you know mighty well you're not ashamed to have folks see me kiss you. I'll do it again if you say a anything."

BASEBALL BOXING BOWLING

SCHEDULE FOR THE TRIBUNE TOURNEY

OAKS CAPTURE DOUBLE HEADER

AMATEURS FIGHT TUESDAY NIGHT

THE TRIBUNE BOWLING MEN TO RESUME PLAY

Play in the second week of THE TRIBUNE bowling tournament will be resumed tomorrow evening on the Syndicate Alleys.

Great interest is being manifested by Alameda county bowlers in THE TRIBUNE contest for valuable medals and prizes.

The first week of the tournament was most successful. Good average scores were made and the fight for leadership is close.

Following will be found the names of all those who will bowl this week, and the date on which they will appear:

Tuesday, September 19.—Ward, Strode, Bateman, Spegal, Beckwith, Hunt, Berquist, Leonard, Bird.

Wednesday, September 20.—Whitney, Jones, Orbell, Garcelman, Waters, F. Kelton, Mason, Davidson.

Thursday, September 21.—H. Kelton, Anderson, Thomas, Kinns, Williams, Kunhardt, Nelson, Dregger.

Friday, September 22.—Taylor, Ellis, Hartley, Barnett, Galt, Kennedy, Mulvaney, Hoffman, Gregg.

WALKING WILL BE PUT IN EVENTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Walking contests are to be revived here by the Amateur Athletic Union. There have been no events of this kind on the championship program since 1898. It was said at that time they were eliminated to make way for throwing the discus.

This substitution was caused by the victory of an American, Robert Garrett, of Princeton, at the first revival of the Olympic games in Greece in 1896.

For a while afterward the athletes here were discus-mad, and the A. A. U. added it to the program at the expense of the time-honored branch of walking. It has been found, according to local athletes, that discus-throwing is no real test of strength and that its expert handling is a knack which many of the best weight-throwers have failed to master.

Next fall at the Metropolitan and National conventions steps probably will be taken to have the walks inserted in all the union programs and the discus may be dropped.

BIG RALLY OF FOOTBALL FANS

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—The second Monday afternoon rally of the year was held today at 4 o'clock on California field. It was the only practice this week as the freshmen play a game with Oakland High tomorrow.

Plans for other rallies during the term were also discussed at the rally today. The freshman rally will be held in Harmon gymnasium the night before the game with the Stanford babies. The pajamero rally is dated for October 26, and will be given in the Greek Theater. Other rallies are the smoker, November 9, and the axe rally, November 6, five days before the intercollegiate game.

The speakers of this afternoon are: Professor O'Neill and J. A. Force, '06. While the freshman games are held on Tuesday there will be but one open practice a week and all men will be expected to utilize this opportunity of convincing the football men that the student body is behind them.

CHALLENGE IS ISSUED BY TEAM

The Lafayette baseball team would like to hear from any team whose members are under sixteen years. Would like to hear from any team under that age. Address: Chris Reuss, Lafayette, Contra Costa county, Cal.

Beautiful Women.

Pump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal. It will prevent constipation and help digest what you have eaten.

Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Tex. writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria. Sold by Wishart Drug Store."

HEESEMANS FASTFIELDER ONE OF BEST IN LEAGUE

GEORGE POULTNEY, formerly of St. Mary's College baseball squad, and who is now playing with the Heeseeman's State League Team.

George Poultney has been playing a steady consistent game for the Heeseeman Club of the State League. He is taking everything that comes in right field with the greatest ease, and is doing his share of the hitting.

He has played ball in St. Mary's College for the last six years, and has been the leading hitter of the Phoenix team for the last two years.

He had established a great reputation as a catcher, until he met with an accident in a game at Stanford last year. Since then he has played on first base and in right field, but is always willing and ready to go behind the bat, if his team should need him. He is well liked by all the teams in the league, and is a gentleman at all times.

At present he is teaching at St. Mary's College and promises to make as nice a record for himself as a teacher, as he did on the diamond.

FRESHIES DEFEAT SOPHS IN A BASEBALL GAME

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—Freshmen 10, Sophomores 4.

The above tells the story of the game between the freshmen and Sophomores played Saturday afternoon. The 1000 men proved a veritable surprise to the second-year men and pounced out a fine bunch of hits. They showed themselves to have a fine crowd of promising players for the freshman team, that will next spring meet Stanford in the first intercollegiate freshman game. Every man who played in the game made a good showing. The sophomores could do nothing against the heavy onslaughts of the heavy hitters.

The freshmen has a team that will make a very interesting game for the juniors or seniors in the final game which will probably be played Saturday afternoon.

Between open football practices and the days of games baseball is occupying the center of attraction on the old field west of California hall. Beside the two intercollegiate games, the freshmen and sophomores have been scheduled to take place in the next few weeks. A new league among the colleges has been formed with a team for each of the colleges as follows: Social Sciences, G. B. Blankenberg, '07, captain; Commerce, R. W. Arner, '07, captain; Chemistry, R. W. Arner, '07, captain; Agriculture, W. I. Dement, '07, captain; Mining, C. Gordon, '07, captain; Civil Engineering, A. F. Fisher, '07, captain; Mechanics, C. Wayne, '07, captain; Natural Sciences, F. L. Johnson, '07, captain. There was a meeting of captains and managers this morning at 11 o'clock in the Blue and Gold office, to ratify the list of games, which is now arranged as follows: Social Sciences vs. Commerce, Friday at 11 a. m.; Chemistry vs. Agriculture, 3:30 p. m. Friday; the winners of these two games to play Friday, September 29, at 11 a. m. Mining and Civil Engineering will play Wednesday, September 27, at 11 a. m. Mechanics and Natural Sciences on Thursday, September 28. The winners of these matches will play on Friday, September 29, at 3:30 p. m. The winners of the two semi-final games will play on Friday, October 6th. There will not be allowed any varsity match in the next go. Both have a very fine line-up. The official umpire will be Ted Rust, '06, and W. R. DeLeon, '06.

HERE'S SOME CHANGES IN RULES FOR FOOTBALL

The changes in the football rules for 1906, of which there are quite a number, for the most part will affect the details of the play itself.

Under rule 5, relating to a scrimmage, a distinction has been made between the act of the snapper-back and the act of any other player of the side in possession of the ball. If the snapper-back makes a motion as if to snap the ball, whether he withholds it or not, the ball is regarded as being in play and the scrimmage begins. If any other player of the side in possession of the ball makes an attempt by a false start to draw the opponents' offside and the ball is then snapped, it shall be brought back and not regarded as in play or the scrimmage commenced.

MUST PLAY IN BOUNDS.

Legislation has also been directed at players who are out of bounds at the time when the ball is put in play, and a rule has been made that no player shall be out of bounds at the time when the ball is put in play, except the man who is holding the ball for a place kick.

Instruction is given to the referee to blow his whistle immediately when the forward progress of the ball has been stopped. This has been done in order to lessen the tendency to fight for the ball after its progress has been stopped, or to steal it from a player who practically has it "down."

A rule has also been made that when a substitute is sent in he cannot run on to the field and get into the line-up, but must go directly to the referee and report himself before he can be permitted to take his place. This is to do away with the tendency at times when a substitute was sent in of having both the substitute and the man he was to replace playing in the game at one and the same time.

Coaching from the side lines is now to be penalized by a loss of ten yards instead of five.

MAY ASK THE TIME.

In order to make definite what a captain might request in the way of giving time, a note has been appended to the rule which states that the linesman shall notify the captains of the time remaining to play not more than ten nor less than five minutes before the end of each half, to the effect that there is no objection to the line-up giving the approximate time to the captain who asks for it at any time during the game. He may not, however, be asked for this time more than three times within the last five minutes of the half.

AMATEUR BOXERS READY TO MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The West Oakland Club has made arrangements to handle the large crowd which doubtless will attend to witness its boxing bouts tomorrow evening.

The card arranged is an unusually excellent one and is the result of the match makers' best efforts and he promises as fine a show as was seen last month.

The first bout brings out Walter Brown and Kid Britt. Both lads are very fast and clever and a rattling bout will be depended upon.

Jack Mulvey and Johnny Crowe come together in the next go. Both these lads are very clever, fast and experienced, and a rattling go will be in order.

TO SETTLE DISPUTE.

Kid Edwards and Kid Carter come together in the next bout to settle a little personal difficulty and when they start there will be things doing. Al Paczoch and Bill Cooper come together in the next go. Both these lads are of the mixing kind and as they have had numerous bouts and are very fast and clever one of the best bouts seen for some time will be in order.

Boslo and Jack Hughes come together in the next go. Both have a wall-up like the kick of a mule and when it lands the bout generally ends.

MAIN EVENT.

Jack Riley and Ed Mensor meet in the main event. Both these lads are the best of their weight and when the going is good for this bout one of the fastest goes ever put on at the club will be witnessed.

Taken in all the card is an excellent one and will furnish an excellent evening's sport.

Both of yesterday's games were captured by Oakland. In the morning, at Idora Park, Van Halten's pet bunched Hitt out of the box and Hickey was substituted. During the morning affair everybody, with the exception of Van Halten, got one or more binges. Oscar Graham allowed the Seals but five hits.

The feature of the morning's play was the performance of Richards. Oakland's new third baseman, he performed in a very creditable manner, taking many chances without an error. With the sticks, too, he was very handy. Hackett, the new catcher, handled Graham's pills nicely.

In the afternoon affair it required twelve innings, two hours and ten minutes of play, to settle matters. It was a game exhibition and worth traveling miles to see. The scores:

DAN K. AGAIN WINNER OF RACE

Twilight, owned by Mr. Hines, and driven by Billy Donathan, one of the most expert drivers on this coast, met defeat in straight heats by Dan K. owned and driven by Mr. Pretti.

The first heat was won in easy fashion by Mr. Pretti; while the second was won by a nose.

A large crowd was in attendance and the weather and track were fine.

A very partisan crowd was there as shown by the amount of betting; every one seemed to have a bet on either one or the other of the horses.

Mr. Pretti's victory was popular, as is an amateur pitted against a professional.

On next Sunday Mr. Pretti will race Sleepy Dick, owned by Denny Lanigan at San Lorenzo, for a side bet of $500.

LOCAL ELEVEN TO PLAY U. OF C. FRESHMEN TEAM

"MIKE DAVIS," captain of the Oakland High School football team, who will play left guard in the contest with the Freshmen at University of California tomorrow.

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—There has been a little discussion of late among students of the University about whether the interest in baseball this semester with the numerous games on the old field will cause any less interest in football. It will not because of the arrangement of the two afternoons for open work in football on California field. A rousing rally every Monday and a good game following on some other day in the week will no doubt keep up the interest in this year's team. In fact, the three or four days a secret practice keep the student body very curious about what will develop at each game.

TO PLAY OAKLAND.

The freshmen are being worked for another game and when they meet Oakland High tomorrow evening should show some little improvement in the points where they were weak in the game with Berkeley High. The line has been given some hard work during the past few days with this end in view.

The Varsity is working hard every day getting down the finer points of the game. There has not as yet been any heavy scrimmage practice. The coaches have on the other hand devoted more of their time to the perfecting of the different men in the various positions.

NO SCORE MADE.

On Saturday, September 16, the football team of Oakland High School played the Centerville High team, at Centerville. No scoring was done, but the game was in favor of Oakland High, who came very nearly scoring in the second half. If the halves had been a trifle longer, there is no doubt that Centerville would have been beaten, on account of its lack of condition.

The first half of the game was slightly in favor of Centerville, but in the second, Oakland took a brace, and by repeated mass plays, worked the ball to the five-yard line, only to lose it on a fumble. The length of the halves being only fifteen minutes, Oakland's was not able to score, although the whistle blew with the ball in Oakland's possession on the ten-yard line.

Oakland's line-up was as follows: Center, Ralph; guards, Davis (captain), Malden, Saunders; tackles, Finnegan, Kutz, Tretheway; ends, Bangs, Malcolm; quarterback, G. Walton; half-backs, L. Walton, Stroud; full, Overlin, Von Loben Sels.

EVERETT WINS PENNANT IN NORTHWEST LEAGUE

SEATTLE, Sept. 18.—The season of the Pacific Northwest League has closed, with Everett winning the pennant. As Everett tied Vancouver for first place in the second half, and as it has been decided not to play it off, Everett will be awarded the championship.

It will be remembered that the Everett team was taken to Bellingham on a special train just before the close of the first half to play a postponed game. The team that in the morning and coming back to Everett, defeated Vancouver in a very exciting contest, and thus did for first place.

There was an awful yell from the Vancouver folks about what was called Hulén's sharp practice, but as everything was straight and regular there was no ground for a protest. Billy Hulén deserves a lot of credit for rounding out a winning team, after getting a very bad start. Johnnie Burns helped out a lot in winning the pennant, for after he left Seattle he picked up in his hitting, and as there was never anything the matter with his fielding, second base was well taken care of.

LEAGUE HAD ITS TROUBLES.

The little league had its troubles, as was to be expected. Victoria, with a losing team, proved to be a loser and the team was transferred to Spokane. McIntyre got some new men and he gave Everett a hot chase for the flag. He made his run just a little too late, however, to catch the flying leaders. McIntyre will be remembered as the 'big third' baseman of the Butte team, who had that run in with Billy Hurley that Sunday when Seattle turned out the big gest crowd that ever saw a ball game in this city. He has proven that he can manage a team, and he will probably be retained in Spokane next year. If the pennant had been won by Vancouver, Bellingham made a runaway race of the first part of the season right up until the last two weeks. Had Jack Drennan been given any money with which to get two men he would have won the pennant without question. The backers of the Bellingham team were backers in name only.

NO MONEY PUT UP.

They did not put up a cent before the season started nor afterward. Drennan told the writer he resigned the management of the team, that he had to pay the training expenses by playing exhibition games, and that the day the season opened there was not a penny in the club's treasury. Considering these conditions, the Bellingham boys made a wonderful showing, and the hand of the forsy Dugdale was never shown to better advantage. Dug picked out that team of fast youngsters and they made good, until higher priced men in other teams put them out of it.

McCluskey was getting along all right in Vancouver, until he bumped into the salary limit so hard that he bounced back. John had to lopp-off five men at one time, and they were among his highest priced men. They were his best players. His own salary suffered a serious blow, and he has not been a serious factor in the second race. Vancouver comes out of the first season with one of the finest ball parks in the West and with an appetite for baseball that will make this city a good one for any circuit next year.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier of Chebroke, Ia., by Electric Bitters. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone I could not eat or sleep without a cushion, and suffered from dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by their use was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach, guaranteed by Ogden's drug stores. Seven cents a bottle, Broadway and Twelfth and Washington, price 50c."

HAS REFEREE RIGHT TO CALL ALL WAGERS OFF?

Here is what a sporting authority in the New York World has to say about a referee calling all bets off:

Another referee has appointed himself universal stakeholder and declared all bets off in a fight in which he had awarded a victory in turn to each fighter. Losers with hasty tempers, called him a fool, a knave and other names which cannot be printed here. Perhaps they were wrong to use violent language, but the provocation certainly was very great.

Let us consider the facts in the case and see whether some system of protection cannot be devised for the honest bettor who backs his judgment with a wager. This most recent instance of muddle-headed refereeing happened the other night at Salt Lake, Utah. Willard Bean refereed a fight between John Wille and Mike Schreck, in the Salt Palace Arena.

Schreck was knocked down in the tenth round and claimed a foul, which was not allowed. In the eleventh Wille again knocked Schreck down and he was counted out.

"Wille wins," Referee Bean decided.

Followed a loud roar of "Foul!" from the losing side, even as in Maggie Cline's song:

"Recruits" represent a wide departure from the ordinary methods employed in making cigars. That's why they're so different—so superior. The American Cigar Company is the only manufacturer even to attempt scientific methods of fermenting and blending the tobacco.

"Fit for Any Company"

The recent construction of its million-dollar "stermeries" is but characteristic of the improved methods employed in every department of cigar production. The "Triangle A" merit-mark on the box identifies the product of this new system of making better cigars at every standard price. "Recruits" represent the better kind of cigars now procurable at five cents.

NARROW ESCAPE OF SHIP

MARY L. CUSHING PUTS BACK IN LEAKING CONDITION.

HONOLULU, Sept. 17, 10:30 p. m.—The American ship Mary L. Cushing has put back here in distress, after leaving Eleia, on the island of Kauai, for San Francisco, in a leaking condition.

The Mary L. Cushing came here from Newcastle, Aus. She was leading all the way, and was compelled to call in at Auckland in distress.

Upon her arrival here she discharged her cargo at Eleia, and loaded ballast. She started again for San Francisco on September 9. The crew was at the pumps constantly, and on September 15 they came aft to interview the captain. They said the leak was gaining in spite of the pumping, and asked him to return to port. To this the captain agreed, and put the ship about. The water was coming in at the rate of six feet in twenty-four hours.

The Mary L. Cushing is a wooden ship of 1,655 tons register, built in 1883 at Newburyport, Mass. She is owned by the California Shipping Co., of San Francisco.

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the Tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. A. Crozier, 322 Washington St., Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets put all the bill for indigestion as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'Tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these Tablets that she wrote before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets,

Smith, Walter Graves, Willard Barton Jr., Clarence Shuey, Walter de Leon, Emilie Kruschke, Paul de Leon, Ralph High, Tyler Henshaw, Huntington, Scupham, Isaacs and Wezia.

PIRATE CRAFT IN BATTLE

Vessel on Lake Near Chicago Flies the Black Flag.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—With a black flag flying from its masthead and its occupants armed, a sailing craft appeared off the foot of Thirty-third street yesterday afternoon, and after a battle with members of the Douglas Yacht Club, in which the latter were forced to appeal to the police, weighed anchor and disappeared in the direction of South Chicago.

The appearance of the "pirate" ship, which was seen by scores of persons on the shore and from windows in a number of houses, the vessel dropped anchor less than half a mile out in the lake and its sails were lowered over the sides into a yawl and were rowed to the small buildings of the yacht club.

Carrying rifles and other weapons, the invaders gave chase to those sailing on the porch of the house, and pursued them for some distance. Blows were exchanged and a hand-to-hand struggle was engaged in. But the persons who composed the small party at the boat-house were routed and telephoned to the police.

As the first of the policemen appeared the "pirates" hurried to where their yawl was, towed back to their yacht, and sailed away.

The police believe that the "pirates" are youthful burglars who live in the district south of Hyde Park, and who have been wanted for a series of robberies.

This went on for some time, each day the report being that his wife was improving.

VAG MAKES HIS MEN OF WEALTH ESCAPE

SLIPS AWAY FROM WORK-GANG UNPERCEIVED CAUSING MUCH TROUBLE.

POINT RICHMOND, Sept. 18.—Chas. Roff, a ninety-day vag, escaped from custody Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. He was working in company with others in front of the courthouse on the lawn and when no one was watching sneaked away. His absence was soon noticed and a search instituted, but he had made good his escape. He is thought to have boarded a freight train bound eastward and of-ficers all along the line have been notified to look out for him.

Roff is a shoemaker by trade, aged 30 years, 5 feet 3 1/2 inches, weight about 145, brown hair, hazel gray eyes, medium dark complexion.

FILLS ITS TANKS.

The Santa Fe is taking advantage of the fall in freight traffic just now to fill its oil tanks. The big oil in the yards here has been drawn upon until it is only half full. It has in it now 4200 tons. Its full capacity is 8800 tons. Long trains of oil are coming in daily to be transferred to the reservoir. The large car tanks hold 37 tons; the small ones 28 tons. Averaging them at 30 tons each a total of 327 cars would be required to fill the reservoir. Counting 20 cars as a train load the company would be required to haul sixteen train loads of oil to fill the tank.

They don't dare fill the cars full. The oil expands when it gets cold and would burst the tanks.

The oil all comes from the Santa Fe's prolific wells in Kern county.

CARS STOPPED.

The trolley service, to use the language of the street, was "all shot to pieces" Saturday night. Some repairs were needed on the big dynamo at the power house and the power was shifted to the little machine. This made it necessary to reduce the number of cars in operation. The Stege car was put out of commission entirely and the run between the 10th and 12th St. depot was reduced to one car. Part of the time there was only one car on the county line run. Many people were inconvenienced but the company thought better to attend to the repairs now than to have a break down some time in a rush.

PERSONAL.

J. C. Knust will leave for Bullfrog, the new bonanza mining camp of Nevada, about Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Pat Dean has come back to Richmond to remain permanently. He has sold out his business in Tonopah and arrived home yesterday morning.

WORDS OF PRAISE FROM STAGE TALK BY FORMER CAPITOL
WASHINGTON EXPERT UNIVERSITY MAN REMOVAL
Doings in the Town of Dimond.Work of Professor Smith in Fighting Pear Blight Highly Commended by Government Man.

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—No less an expert than Professor W. B. Waite, from Washington, has warmly commended Professor Ralph E. Smith, the University plant expert, for his work in the campaign against pear blight. Waite, the government authority on plant diseases, has just left for Washington, D. C., after several weeks spent in investigating the work done here to stamp out pear blight.

Professor Waite is regarded as perhaps the greatest authority on diseases of this character. He was called to this State a year ago when the pear blight first made its appearance, and then gave directions, after conferring with Professor Smith, of the University of California, for a campaign against the blight.

This campaign has been waged under the supervision of Professor Smith throughout the year, and Professor Waite expressed himself as delighted with the progress made. He believes the pear blight, originally a menace to the industry, is now under such control that its effect need not be greatly feared.

while the prospect is excellent for its complete eradication.

Professor Waite's word in this matter is regarded as the last word, as he has made a special study of the pear blight. He is responsible for the change in the belief that the winds would carry the seeds of the disease from tree to tree. Professor Waite has demonstrated that insects carry the disease, and that winds have nothing to do with it. The germ that does the damage in pear blight is of a gummy consistency, and not of a sort to be carried about by the wind. Many errors were made in attempting to combat the disease, because the insect part in its propagation and transmission was overlooked, until Professor Waite demonstrated that insects do the business. Professor Waite showed, his friends say, that insects were at the bottom of the trouble, by covering pear trees with netting to keep out the insects. The trees were then exposed to the germ. The wind blew, but the trees were not affected, while other trees not protected with netting soon showed evidence of the blight. This discovery practically revolutionized the method of treating the disease, and helped to make the method almost entirely successful.

Asks for Statistics

on County's

Products.

The gathering of statistics of the manufactures and products of Alameda county for the State Board of Agriculture has been begun in earnest by Commissioner S. N. Wyckoff appointed by the Board of Supervisors to do this work and in a few days he will have fifteen men in the field in an effort to gather the data together in the next thirty days.

For this purpose the county will be taken by school districts and the acreage and amount of products will be taken in each. It is expected that in this way tabulated statements of the products of the county of great value will be obtained, and in this connection Wyckoff said this morning:

"You may quote Edwin Seagraves, secretary of Board of Trade as saying that he believes that this data will be one of the best advertisements the county has ever had."

"We are in hopes that the people of the county will co-operate with us in this work. The State Legislature has seen fit to require it and we now want to get all the benefit we can from it."

This is pioneer work and after the first year will not be so hard. We have a list of the products required by the State Board and will try and get the information relative to these as close as we can."

Will Tell College Folk About
"Tendencies in Drama"

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—The University Dramatic Association has secured Elmer B. Harris, '01, to deliver a lecture on Friday evening, September 19th. He will speak in Hearst Hall on the subject of "Modern Tendencies in the Drama." Concerning the speaker, Professor W. D. Armes, president of the association, said:

"It is appropriate that the first lecture before this new association should be by a University graduate, who during his undergraduate days won success as an actor, monologist, and playwright. Since his graduation in 1901 Harris has devoted himself to the study of the drama with a view to writing plays, and has been particularly fortunate in his association with some of the most distinguished actors, critics and playwrights in America and Europe. After a brief tour with 'Soldiers of Fortune,' in this country and Canada, he went to England with Ellen Terry, and was with the Benson-Terry company during its engagement at Stratford. Under the direction of William Archer, he read widely in the modern European drama and submitted original plays to him for criticism."

For nine months Harris studied under the direction of Coquelin in Paris, being the only person not a member of the company allowed to witness all that Greek actor-manager's rehearsals. In Germany he studied in Dresden, Berlin and Hamburg, and in the last city his Italian play, 'Tempesta,' was produced. He is now at home for a brief visit, but returns soon to Hamburg to superintend the rehearsals of 'The Crucifixion,' his three-act play that was successful in a competition of over twelve hundred, and is to be produced in the Schauspielhaus there this fall."

BERKELEY, Sept. 18.—News from China of importance to the fruit industry of the state is expected daily by Professor C. W. Woodworth, and his fellow entomologists at the State University, who are awaiting with intense interest the outcome of a trip to China, which George Comper, famous for his work in the interests of the horticultural industry of California, has undertaken. Comper has written to his fellow workers at the University from West Australia, that he expects to secure in China a parasite for the purple scale, a pest that has afflicted the orange groves in Southern California for many years.

Comper is an indefatigable and quite successful collector of insects that prey on fruit pests. If he finds the parasite he seeks in China, the valuable little insects will be sent to this state at once. His efforts in other fields have proven so productive of valuable results that the present quest he is conducting in the beginning of the end of the purple scale's devastating work in California.

Comper went to West Australia, after a trip to Brazil, undertaken to find a parasite for a certain sort of fruit fly fruit moth parasite brought to California last winter, is reported to have done excellent work in many orchards where the fruiting moth held sway. Experienced orchardists say, however, that it will take probably another year for the parasite to multiply in sufficient numbers to drive the moth from the orchards entirely.

Comper is a well-known and successful collector of insects that prey on fruit pests. If he finds the parasite he seeks in China, the valuable little insects will be sent to this state at once. His efforts in other fields have proven so productive of valuable results that the present quest he is conducting in the beginning of the end of the purple scale's devastating work in California.

Comper went to West Australia, after a trip to Brazil, undertaken to find a parasite for a certain sort of fruit fly fruit moth parasite brought to California last winter, is reported to have done excellent work in many orchards where the fruiting moth held sway. Experienced orchardists say, however, that it will take probably another year for the parasite to multiply in sufficient numbers to drive the moth from the orchards entirely.

DIMOND, Sept. 18.—Some of the Dimond people who attended the State Fair at Sacramento have become converted to the idea of moving the state capital. They say that the lack of sleeping accommodations in Sacramento during the fair was something appalling. A. P. Frost, one of the old residents of Dimond, being one of the solid business men of Dimond, was unable to get a bed for two nights out of three he was there. He got a bed only the last night. The general sentiment here is that the capital building should be removed to Oakland.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.
Three acres of the Simons tract on Lincoln avenue, above Hopkins street, were sold last week, by Stotts and Rhoda, to Mrs. Alice Taylor, for $2400. This indicates a gradual but steady rise of that tract in value within the past few years. There are but three acres left. Mrs. Taylor also bought, last week, the new Seammell cottage of five rooms on Fruitvale avenue, just below Dimond, for an investment. The price was $2600. The cottage is already rented. The Seammell cottage, another new five-room, up-to-date building on Fruitvale avenue, above Dimond postoffice, was also sold last week for $2500.

INQUIRIES FOR HOUSES.
There are quite a number of inquiries for houses for rent, these days, but unfortunately there are none for rent here. All the new cottages built here recently have been rented or sold before they were finished. Several tenanted houses are now rented by others in advance, pending vacancy.

A METHODIST "COLONY"
Rev. Richard Johns, Methodist, retired, late of Newark conference, N. J., last located at North Patterson for two years, and was a supervisory relation with the conference, is building a nice residence on Boston avenue, near Hopkins street, intending to make Dimond a permanent home for himself and family. A married son, who is a builder and contractor, has just purchased a lot next to his father, and will build a home. Rev. H. Lundy, Methodist, recently from Kansas City, Mo., now located temporarily on Forrest street, is looking for a favorable location to build a permanent home for himself and family. Rev. J. W. Wether, Methodist minister, who has been nine years in California conference, but for the past year visiting his old home in Virginia, recently bought the show place on School street near the school building, where he and his wife are at home. The first two ministers have retired from active participation in ministerial work, but Mr. Woods, who is about forty years of age, was a candidate before the Methodist conference in session at Pacific Grove last week for active work. He is assigned to Dimond, and intends to join his property to Dimond as a permanent home. These things, Dimond people think, all indicate good climate and other beauties and advantages of location for residence purposes. The Rev. W. C. D. Marshall, pastor of the Highgate M. E. church, in Dimond, anticipates taking steps to build a new church building on the corner of Boston avenue and School street. It is intended that the new edifice shall be a credit to the whole Fruitvale section. The present property, which is free from debt, will be sold, and the proceeds turned into the new work.

PERSONAL NOTES.
The Presbyterians, Rev. F. Rhoda, pastor, are putting a "loft" in the church for use by the boys of the congregation as a Sunday school class room.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON KICKED STAINS IN FACE BY HORSE

OUR THOMAS LIPTON.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON, while leading his regiment past King Edward at the military review at Edinburgh, Scotland, today, was thrown from his horse and kicked in the face.

Accident Happens to Famous Sportsman in Review Before King Edward.

EDINBURGH, Sept. 13.—The greatest master of Scotland under arms since the battle of Floddenfield was reviewed by King Edward here today. The king arrived at the Scottish capital this morning and proceeded to Holyrood palace, whence, attended by the Duke of Connaught and a brilliant staff, he rode to the parade ground in King's Park, where nearly 20,000 Scotch volunteers marched past His Majesty. Enormous numbers of visitors from all parts of Scotland and the North of England witnessed the review, which is expected to assist in counteracting the extreme irritation felt in volunteer circles over recent worrying regulations of the war office. During the march past Sir Thomas Lipton, who is honorary colonel of the Second Lancashire Engineers, was leading his regiment past the king, when his horse threw him and Sir Thomas was kicked in the face. His injuries are not serious. Sir Thomas' injuries consisted of a cut mouth and bruised shoulder. He was unconscious for a few minutes, but recovered quickly. The king sent an equestrian rider. ## STAINS OF BLOOD FOUND

Evidence Lead Police to Suspect Man of Woman's Murder.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—A large force of detectives is at work today searching for Jos. Girard, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued in accordance with the murder of Augusta Pfeiffer near Pelham road, Westchester, on Monday last. Several reports of the man's movements since Wednesday have been received and the detectives expect to find him within twenty-four hours. Girard's home is said to be in Nashua, N. H. Girard is a truck driver and boarded with Mrs. Julia H. Mahon on the Pelham road not far from the place where the body of Mrs. Pfeiffer was found. The police assert that they found a quantity of the man's clothing in the sink in Mrs. Mahon's kitchen and that she told them that Girard had changed all his garments except his underclothing on Thursday morning. She had found blood stains on the clothes she said, but he offered no explanation as to how they came there.

CAUSES TROUBLE ON A CAR

AGED A. W. DONATHAN GIVES BATTLE TO TRACTION EMPLOYEES.

ALAMEDA, Sept. 13.—A. W. Donathan, aged 60 years, whose address was given as 2128 Union street, Oakland, ran amuck for a time last evening after indulging too freely in liquid refreshments, and gave the employees of the Oakland Traction Consolidated a lively half hour at the power house on Webster street. Before Donathan was subdued and taken to the city prison he came near wrecking the car barn by smashing the windows. Donathan, who was wearing a jockey cap at the time and who is supposed to be connected with the race track started for Oakland at 7 o'clock on the trolley car, and created a disturbance while in the car. At 7:15 o'clock he was ordered from the car by the conductor, at the power house near the marsh. Enraged at this Donathan seized a cobblestone and hurled it through the window of the office. A cry arose from the bookkeeper who supposed that the place was being bombarded. The Oakland car then smashed another rock and smashed the windows. The employees tried to capture the man but were thrown aside. The police were then called in. Patrolman Fred Brampton responded to a hurried call, and after a struggle succeeded in handcuffing Donathan. Fearing that he might succeed in releasing himself in some way and renew his attack upon the company's power house, the employees rang up a special call and took the window smasher and the officer to the city prison. This morning Donathan was released on $50 cash bail furnished by his wife or daughter.

DENY MOBILIZATION OF NORWEGIANS

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Sept. 13.—Another semi-official denial of the renewed charges of a Norwegian mobilization of troops was issued in this morning's Swedish newspapers. It declared that Norway had made no military preparations except such as were absolutely necessary from a defensive point of view and that the report that practically all the troops in central Norway and in the frontier districts have been mobilized is unfounded.

TO HOLD CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Delegates representing the various trade, industrial and producing interests of the country are to hold a convention in Chicago October 26-27. The object of the convention is to impress upon congress the extent of the duty of the people of all parts of the country for legislation outlined in the President's last annual message to Congress as follows: "The Interstate Commerce Commission should be vested with the power, where a given rate has been challenged and after full hearing (found to be unreasonable, to decide, subject to judicial review, what shall be a reasonable rate to make its place, the rule of the commission to take effect immediately and to obtain unless and until it is reversed by the Court of Review. The convention also will endeavor to arouse public interest in the movement."

IROQUOIS CLUB AT BANQUET

MEMBERS HAVE A PLEASANT OUTING AT SAN LEANDRO.

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 13.—The question of fusion in San Francisco municipal politics was the chief topic of the speakers at the twenty-second annual outing and banquet of the Iroquois Club of San Francisco, which was held at the Hotel San Leandro, yesterday afternoon. The banquet was after the fashion of an old Spanish bullfight breakfast—beef, chickens and green corn being roasted in open trenches and served on long tables in the open beneath the trees. President William J. Locke of the club presided at the banquet as toastmaster. The speakers all dealt with politics touching more or less directly on San Francisco affairs. That in the selection of men for office personality should be considered above party affiliations was the keynote of the remarks of Lewis P. Byington, District Attorney of San Francisco county, who said: "The main consideration of the Iroquois Club should be to see that honest men are placed in public office. In my opinion, a person should put principle above everything else. In choosing men for public office we should select honest men, rather than party men. A man's character should be the thing considered rather than to what party he belongs. In the present crisis in San Francisco affairs this holds especially true."

NEED OF REFORM

Percy V. Long, City Attorney of San Francisco, spoke on municipal reform.

and declared that the club had a place in correcting evils, saying in the course of his remarks: "Municipal affairs are corrupt and there is need of a reform. This club should stand for clean government and it has played a prominent part in obtaining good government in the past." William H. Kline, a past president of the club, referred to the good work it has done in reference to civic duties, saying: "We ought to stand for clean politics above party and we should work for clean government always. The club has in the past been a factor in such things. It is always stood for the acquisition of public utilities and has always stood for the right."

That the club was one of the most prominent factors in purifying elections and in securing the passage of laws for the purification of elections was the claim of William M. Chapman, a prominent San Francisco member of the club. William M. Gibson of Stockton spoke on the evils of the interior. Not all the speakers, however, were willing to see the club lay aside its political complexion. William Asmusen, of Berkeley, after stating that the organization is in good financial condition and that the money should be used to advance civic government and Democratic principles in San Francisco, concluded by saying: "But I stand first, last and all the time for a Democrat, believe that there never was a man who was greater than his party."

Charles Edelman was likewise "first, last and all the time" a Democrat, closing a humorous speech with this declaration.

MCDONALD SPEAKS. City Treasurer John E. McDonald, of San Francisco spoke briefly, thanking the club for its invitation to be present and to address it. S. S. Earley, grand sachem of the club, told of the general organization, leaving that subject long enough, however, to compliment California's fair women.

Former Congressman James G. McGuire spoke on the national Democratic platform, dwelling on its history and telling of the honor he felt in supporting its tenets. There were a number of ladies present, and also among those about the table were noticed several of San Francisco's official dignitaries, including County Clerk J. J. Greif and Chief Deputy George S. McComb among them. Among the other notables were J. L. Keenan, a member of the last Grand Jury, Joseph Gorman, Alfred B. Lawson, Judge A. D. Lennon, W. H. Langdon, Captain John Martin, H. V. McLean, L. V. Merle, Harry Alexander, Harry Zeman, Thomas J. Walsh, Charles Gilchrist, John N. Ross and E. L. Blenfield of San Francisco and E. J. Rector of Nevada City. Tonight Governor Joseph Folk of Missouri will be the guest of the club at a reception at the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco.

SIGHT RUSSIAN SQUADRON. Seoul, Korea, Sept. 13.—A Russian squadron was sighted Sunday off Syong Chin, Korea. Its mission was to communicate the terms of the armistice to the Russian forces on the Tumen river.

TEACHERS VISIT ODD FELLOWS IN HAYWARD SESSION

SHOWN THROUGH CANNERY AND CALIFORNIA PICKLE WORKS.

If the children in the public schools of Oakland are not told every stage of the process of growing, canning, preserving and pickling fruits and vegetables this week it will not be the fault of the Messrs. Hunt Brothers and the California Pickle and Vinegar works. Last Saturday half a hundred teachers of the public schools of Oakland enjoyed a day's outing at the Meek estate ranch and the above mentioned factories. They left Oakland in a special car at 10 o'clock and proceeded direct to the Meek ranch where Mr. Roberts was piled with innumerable questions as to soils, products of the ranch and manner of production. Then, too, most of the teachers came out of the ranch with chestnut burrs, walnuts, sprigs of bay leaves and a half dozen were fortunate enough to be allowed to pick lemons from the trees. It was an instructive and interesting occasion. A picnic lunch was thoroughly enjoyed in the Haywards canyon and then followed a bus ride to the canneries of the Hunt Brothers company and the pickle works. All through every stage of the many processes of preserving fruits and vegetables the teachers and explained in detail all that was to be seen and not only that but saw that every member of the party had an immense peach and pear to serve as a reminder of the visit. At the works of the California Pickle and Vinegar Company an invading army could not have enjoyed eating salt or sweet pickles more than did these teachers of the young of Oakland, and then, too, the superintendent not only showed every portion of the California Pickle and Vinegar company but also explained in detail all that was to be seen and not only that but saw that every member of the party had an immense peach and pear to serve as a reminder of the visit. ## WHIST TOURNAMENT AT WEST OAKLAND

In the auditorium of St. Patrick's Church at West Oakland on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock a great whist tournament will be given. For several weeks about forty young ladies of West Oakland have been busily engaged arranging details for the large affair. The auditorium is in grand order, every little item having been planned. The prizes, which can be seen in the show windows at Tatt & Penoyer on Broadway, are very fine. The young ladies who are planning the affair and who are encouraged by Father McNally, are very anxious to succeed and even to excel former affairs of the kind. The Young Men's Institute, No. 3, are doing all that is possible to make the affair a success and to help the young ladies in their enterprise.

ADVANCE PRICE OF OIL

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13.—The Standard Oil Company today advanced the selling price on all grades of refined oil half a cent per gallon. Gasoline is advanced half a cent. ## PANIC ON S. P. FERRYBOAT

THE "OAKLAND" COLLIDES WITH RAFT ON BAY EARLY THIS MORNING.

Five hundred passengers on board the ferryboat "Oakland" were thrown into a panic at 12:20 o'clock this morning when the vessel crashed into part of a raft of floating logs that have endangered traffic on the bay for a fortnight or more. The "Oakland" had pulled out from San Francisco promptly on time and when about a quarter of a mile from the Oakland pier the bow of the vessel crashed into the floating logs, and came to a sudden stop. The passengers were all hurled from their seats, women screamed, and all made a wild rush for life preservers. Luckily no one was trampled on in the struggle for the life preservers. While the passengers were busy trying to get the life preservers, the captain ordered the man at the wheel to back up and then start ahead. With a few puffs and another jolt, which almost upset the passengers again, the "Oakland" passed over the logs and landed at the pier only a few minutes late. Nobody was hurt but many landed with pale faces, and some were still clinging to the life preservers.
